Ends hard campaign

Oakley is next mayor

By DG FASSETT

The hotly contested race for the office of mayor in Romulus was concluded yesterday with the victory of William M. Oakley over former mayor Terry L. Troutt.

The mayor's race, highlighted by charges and counter-charges of campaign 'dirty tricks', and the defeat of incumbent mayor James Stewart followed the traditional 'rocky road' of politics which has come to be expected in Romulus.

Yesterday's election results are sure to change the political power structure in the city.

Over 50 percent of the Romulus voters turned out for yesterday's election for the office of mayor, city treasurer, city clerk and to fill seven council seats.

The 7,138 voters who went to the polls gave the job of mayor to William Oakley, former councilman of seven years, with 3,686 votes to former mayor Terry L. Troutt's 3,283.

Oakley who campaigned and ran on the platform of cleaning up Romulus' image, carried 11 precincts to Troutt's 9. The race, viewed as 'nip and tuck' by long time political observers, followed that trend as the vote tally showed Oakley to be trailing Troutt by 51 votes in unofficial tabulations in the first 13 precincts reported. However, in the later stages of the vote count, Oakley pulled ahead to a more than a 400 vote lead that held throughout the evening.

'I pledge to do everything in my power to live up to the expectations of our community.'

The victorious Oakley, reached at his victory party, stated, "This is a very proud moment in my life. I went to the citizens of Romulus and asked for their support for my programs to move the city forward. They have responded to my hope of bringing a new day to Romulus. I pledge to do everything in my power to live up to the expectations of the citizens of this great community."

"I would like to commend the citizens of Romulus for the unusual precedent they have set for Romulus today. Future generations may well note this as the day that Romulus enjoyed a new beginning."

"This was the day Romulus voters stood up to say that they are an honest, sincere, and deserving people whose intelligence will not be underestimated. Together, I believe we have established a new set of standards for conducting campaigns and selecting public servants."

In the other races for the office of treasurer and city clerk, Helen Gallien, Romulus director of finance, won easily over incumbent John Lewkowicz.

Mrs. Gallien carried 13 precincts to Lewkowicz's seven, and ran up a lead of 3,502 to 2,786, in the unofficial final tally.

In the race for city clerk, incumbent Leonard Folmar easily outdistanced Jerry Kubiak by nearly 1,000 votes. Folmar carried 12 precincts to eight for Kubiak. His winning margin was 3,652 votes to 2,687.

Final certification of the vote will take place today at 1 p.m. at city hall.

At the same time, communications within city hall began their turn for the worse.

Following charges by Mayor Stewart that some officials within city government were deliberately acting as obstructionist to benefit the campaign of Terry Troutt, the problems at city hall escalated to new heights.

Following the primary victories of Oakley and Troutt, and the defeat of Stewart, the race began in earnest.

This week's decision by Romulus voters could make a lasting impression on the history of Romulus.

Schools' millage bid wins

After five previous unsuccessful tries over the last two years, Romulus Community Schools finally obtained voter approval of an increase in operating school taxes.

Yesterday's victory, 2,798 to 2,677, was the school districts voter's answer to an 8.5 mill increase in operating school taxes for the next five years. The boost will mean a levy of $8.50 for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation on taxable real property.

The school election was held yesterday in conjunction with the general city election for mayor, clerk, treasurer, and seven council members. Both elections had generated considerable interest among voters prior to the final voting.

The Romulus Community Schools' latest millage bid came on the heels of a strong parent protest after it was announced that no children would be bused to school because of money shortages. The no busing decision came following drastic cuts in the coming year's school budget because of a lack of operating revenue.

With many parents refusing to let their children walk to school, and a continuation of protest through demonstrations at board offices and local school sites, the school trustees finally relented.

Permission was granted for busing of students who lived more than a mile and a half from classes, thus allowing the school district to continue to receive substantial state aid monies.

However, many parents were still unhappy and angry. Previous threats to recall several members of the school board were revived, and up to yesterday's election, were being pursued by groups of organized parents.

A group of concerned parents last month journeyed to Lansing to confer with officials of the state Board of Education and other state agencies in an attempt to get answers to local school problems, including busing.

Senior citizens at the drop-in center in Romulus show some of the gifts they have made to sell at their Christmas bazaar to raise funds for their "Home away from home." Shown (left to right) are Agnes Croney, Dora Rich and Helen Bliznik. Florence Haydnak, bazaar chairman, could not be present for picture. A special raffle will be held during the bazaar, with tickets selling at 50 cents each.

Banks tops 7 council winners

By Jim Bradley

Newcomer Mary Ann Banks swept to a startling first place finish in the City Council race yesterday as she ran up nearly 4,000 votes in leading three new members to a seat on the council.

The political novice, who now becomes Mayor Pro Tem, led second place finisher Beverly McAnally by more than 500 votes.

Finishing third was incumbent Jimmie Raspberry, followed by Mary L. Carter, Junior Block, Gerry Canejo and Ray Cantrell.

Finishing out of the race were incumbent Robert Martin, Edmund Bizek, Robert Knight, Brooker Edwards, Barry Baumann, John Ryznar and David Ferdon.

Some 7,138 voters went to the polls yesterday under gray, overcast skies to give Mrs. Banks, the glamorous newcomer, 3,907 votes to lead the field.

Five independent candidates garner

seats in heavy voting

Incumbent McAnally, who ran on the Terry Troutt slate, finished second with 3,367 votes, followed by incumbent Raspberry, 3,028 votes, in third.

Mrs. Carter, the only other Troutt team member elected to office yesterday, came in fourth with 2,972.

They were followed by incumbent Block, 2,837; Council Chairman Canejo, 2,787, and independent newcomer Ray Cantrell, 2,693.

In other unofficial totals, incumbent Martin was ousted as he came in eighth with 2,669 votes. Others who did not gain a seat, and their totals, included: Bizek, 2,573; Knight, 2,465; Ryznar, 2,353; Baumann, 2,308; Ferdon, 2,197; and Edwards, 2,171.

Bizek, Knight, Ryznar and Baumann ran on the Troutt slate, while Martin, Ferdon and Edwards campaigned as independent candidates.

The new council makeup thus includes five independent candidates, Banks, Raspberry, Block, Canejo and Cantrell and two Troutt team members, McAnally and Carter.

The voter turnout of 7,138 was more than 50 percent of the registered voters in Romulus and was no doubt spurred in no small measure by the school millage vote that was also on the ballot.

Ex-Black Panther leaves 'mark' in paint

Former Black Panther Burt Morrow, who was involved in the 1967 Detroit riots, now is spreading something other than revolution and violence.

Today he's spreading paint in creative ways all over Wayne County.

Morrow, who has taken the "nom de plume" of "Bird Van Go," recently completed a colorful, historical panorama on the side of the American Progressive Association Building at 35351 Beverly, on the north side of Romulus.

The artist came to the attention of Stephen Bonczek, community development director, and Aaron Jones III, federal grants program coordinator, as a result of publicity he received from the growing number of wall paintings appearing on party stores, halls and community centers in and around Detroit.

Morrow, 26, uses the name Bird because his mother allowed him the freedom to "spread his wings" and express his budding artistic talents as a child growing up in Detroit's inner city.

"The Van Go part refers to the famous artist Vincent van Gogh and to the fact that I'm on the go all the time in my van," he explained.

His van serves as a mobile studio, containing all his paint supplies. Occasionally, it doubles as a portable bedroom when he's got a project that must be completed quickly.

Van Go was a 16 year-old militant at Northwestern High School in Detroit when the 1967 riots broke out.

After an acquittal on charges stemming from the riots, he drifted around the country with various motorcycle and van clubs. During this time, he rediscovered his youthful interest in music and painting.

He played the flute and guitar with several bands and painted the walls of the motorcycle clubs he visited, often just for a bite of food and a place to sleep.

He returned to Detroit in 1971 and several years later began painting walls in the very areas hardest hit by the 1967 riots.

"I decided to channel my energy into art and music, instead of militancy. The time for violence is past; now I want to push culture," he said.

He currently has more than 150 works to his credit and commissions are steadily coming in. He recently signed a contract to paint several buildings for TV station WGPR, Channel 62 in Detroit.

Because of his heavy assignment schedule, he often must complete jobs in a matter of hours. As a result, he has learned to use spray paints.

"I use a new crylon paint that dries very fast," he said. "Spray paint also is long-lasting, comes in bright colors and doesn't harm the ozone layer by using fluorocarbons."

A month ago, the City of Romulus Grants Department initiated a mural project to be painted on a community center located in a predominately black area of the city.

Department Director Stephen Bonczek suggested Bird Van Go, and after several attempts, he was finally reached and agreed to complete the project.

After several personal interviews with local residents, and 18 hours of painting, five vivid panels, representing notable persons and events in the area's history virtually leap from the wall in vibrant reds, oranges and yellows.

Prominent among the early leaders pictured are Mrs. Hazel Harrison, who was elected Romulus' first black Justice of the Peace in 1947; Eugenio Fernandez, a young Marine Corps medal winner who died in Viet Nam and Joel Hearst, owner of the first black grocery opened in Romulus in 1940.

Thomas J. Coleman, one of the community's present leaders depicted in the mural, noted: "Already the mural has become a point of pride for our people and is visited frequently by school children and old-timers alike."

Displaying obvious pride in his workmanship, Van Go carefully explained his creation to a group of visiting school children and said, just as he was inspired by the early Black leaders of Romulus, he hopes his accomplishment will serve as an inspiration to others.

"This wall will be here for years to come. I hope that some young people will be inspired to do something for themselves and take pride in their heritage, as a result of seeing it."

From Panther to painter

A former member of the Black Panthers has become an artistic success in painting murals depicting the history of the black community on community walls. Detroit's Burt Morrow also has a sense of humor as he goes by the name of Bird Van Go, describing his mode of travel by the name of the famous painter. The budding artist is shown (center) with Aaron Jones, III, federal program coordinator (left) and Stephen Bonczek, community development director of Romulus. — ANP photo.

Birch Run asks city to condemn Garner

The controversy over the closing of Garner Road by owners of Wellesley Townhouses Consumer Housing Cooperative, Wayne and Smith roads, has taken a new turn.

The board of directors of Birch Run Townhouses Cooperative, located directly across from Wellesley on the south side of Garner Road, is asking the city of Romulus to condemn Garner Road and turn it into a city street.

The petition was submitted in writing to Leonard Folmar, City Clerk, by Birch Run's legal counsel, Lawrence A. Thompson, of the law firm of Lawrence A. Thompson & Associates of Southfield.

In the petition, Thompson explained that both Wellesley and Birch Run were built by the same developer, Kaufman and Broad Homes, Inc., but that Wellesley was completed first.

"Access to the original project was from Garner Road and ownership of said road was in the name of Wellesley Townhouses Consumer Housing Cooperative," that being the name of the original project," Thompson stated in his petition.

He went on to state that the two townhouse complexes are now separately operated, that differences have arisen between the two parties involved, and that Wellesley recently took action to close Garner Road.

With residents of the Birch Run project now unable to get to their homes via Garner Road, they are forced to "wade through a maze of back roads in order to reach their homes," Thompson stated.

He added, "This situation has also caused prospective purchasers to shun Birch Run Townhouses Cooperative as a residence."

To support the intent of his client's petition, Thompson said Romulus Fire Chief John Wilhide has sent a letter to Wellesley informing them that the city would not be held responsible for loss of life or property due to time lost by emergency vehicles attempting to reach the scene of a fire or other emergency at the project.

This latter situation has prompted a series of court hearings in which the city is seeking access to both complexes.

Birch Run's board of directors said in the petition that Garner Road, which runs immediately west of Wayne Road, "is the lifeline to Birch Run Townhouses Cooperative for it runs through the center of the project and was specifically designed to provide primary access to the original project (both Wellesley and Birch Run)."

In conclusion, the petition asked the matter to be placed on the agenda of the Romulus City Council.

On Oct. 11, council agreed to have the city attorney, Frank Stanczak, confer with Thompson, attorney for Birch Run, and with the Birch Run Board of Directors.

After receiving the petition from Thompson, Clerk Folmar requested comments on the controversial situation from Dave Krause, city assessor.

Krause said it was his opinion that the differences between Wellesley and Birch Run "appears to be a private dispute, which should be settled in the courts."

He admitted that Garner Road could be condemned by the city and made into a public city road, but that "this is not the general practice."

He based this supposition on the fact that Garner Road is owned by Wellesley and that Birch Run "is asking the city to condemn someone else's property for a commercial use."

Also, Krause explained, "It would also bring up the question of taking over the driveways in Oakbrooke, Morgan Manor, Key Manor, Hampton House, Metro-Mobile and Royal Village."

Hefty Jack

Chuckie Sharrow (left), 11 months, and his sister, April, 4, had big reasons to smile on Halloween. The huge 128-pound pumpkin they used for jack-o-lantern gave them a distinct edge over the competition on Devil's Night. The pumpkin was grown from a seed planted by their sister, Shannon, at the Sharrow home at 6160 Cordell, Romulus.—ANP photo.

In Brief--

RHA meets

"Horseback riding gives handicapped children the self-confidence that often is lacking and it helps them learn balance and muscular control," explained Barbara G. Schultz, president of the Romulus Horseman's Association (RHA).

In that regard, RHA will feature Cathy Bies, instructor of the handicapped riding program of the Wayne County 4-H Extensions office, as speaker in a special meeting next week.

"The public is invited to hear about this fine program and the help they are giving to handicapped children throughout the entire area," said Mrs. Schultz.

The public is invited to attend the free program at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 16 at Romulus City Hall.

"Everyone who comes will get a much better idea how horseback riding can help handicapped children improve their balance and coordination," said Mrs. Schultz, who may be reached at 723-6932 for more information about the meeting and about the handicapped riding program of the Wayne County 4-H Extension office.

Carrier of the Week

The Burges

When it comes to delivering Associated Newspapers' Inkster Ledger-Star edition, it's a family affair for the Jimmy Burges. The family, residents of Hazelwood in Inkster, were interested in receiving the newspaper, but couldn't get good delivery, so to solve that problem Jimmy Burge decided to become an ANP carrier. He found out it was quicker to complete his deliveries on his two assigned streets if the entire family helped, and that's just what his wife Mary and 6-year-old daughter Jacqui do. The Burges said they are ANP carriers not for the money, but "to have it (The Ledger-Star) delivered in the area".

For American women

Plan outlines steps to insure full equality

A proposed National Plan of Action, outlining major steps that must be taken to assure full equality for American women, has been announced at a press conference, held by the President's National Commission on the Observance of International Women's Year Oct. 26.

The 38-page National Plan, which includes support for the Equal Rights Amendment and more than 100 recommendations for remedial action to end discrimination against women in employment, education, health, marital property relations and 22 other areas of concern, will be debated and voted on by nearly 2,000 delegates to the National Women's Conference when it meets in Houston Nov. 18 to 21.

"We're often asked what more do women want," Commission Presiding Officer Bella Abzug said as she announced the plan. "Here we have an answer based on meetings held in every state and territory of our nation in the past year. A cross-section of American women—140,000 strong—of all ages, backgrounds, incomes and racial, ethnic and religious groups attended, including thousands who had never been to a women's meeting before. In overwhelming numbers, they spoke out for equality for women."

Joining Ms. Abzug at the press conference were other members of the 46-member Presidential commission, including actress Jean Stapleton. The 56 state-territorial meetings and the National Women's Conference were authorized under Public Law 94-167, as a follow-up to International Women's Year- 1975, and were congressionally mandated to "identify the barriers that prevent women from participating fully and equally in all aspects of national life, and develop recommendations for means by which such barriers can be removed."

The proposed National Plan is a synthesis of commission recommendations adopted by vote of a majority of the state-territorial meetings and other recommendations voted on by 10 or more state meetings. Additional recommendations were made by the commission, which voted to approve the plan at a 2-day meeting in Washington, D.C. Oct. 20-21.

It will be included in a final commission report to the President and the Congress. Under the law, President Carter is required to submit recommendations for action to Congress within 120 days after receiving the report.

A Declaration of American Women, accompanying the national proposal, notes the "positive changes" that have occurred since the founding of this nation when women were "non-persons and slaves", but asserts that "millions of women still face a daily reality of discrimination, limited opportunities and economic hardship."

"Manmade barriers, laws, social customs and prejudices continue to keep a majority of women in an inferior position without full control of our lives and bodies."

Women "lack effective political and economic power," it said. "We have only minor and insignificant roles in making, interpreting and enforcing our laws, in running our political parties, businesses, unions, schools and institutions, in directing the media, in governing our country, in deciding issues of war and peace."

In addition to calling for final ratification of the ERA, which it describes as "the fulfillment for American women of the promise of equality proclaimed by the Declaration of Independence", the proposed plan includes:

- Federal and state laws relating to marital property, inheritance and domestic relations, based "on the principle that marriage is a partnership in which the contribution of each spouse is of equal importance and value. Alimony, child support and property arrangements at divorce should be such that minor children's needs are first to be met and spouses' share the economic dislocation of divorce."

- Support for the right to reproductive freedom, including opposition to exclusion of abortion from Medicaid and other funding.

- Support for affirmative action programs in employment, education and business opportunities. (Eighteen specific recommendations on employment include support for a policy of full employment, federal legislation to provide equal pay for work of equal value and guarantees of pregnancy disability benefits.)

- Support for a national health security program that covers the health needs of women as individuals and a strengthened Food and Drug Administration to protect women from hazardous, unsafe or ineffective drugs, devices and cosmetics.

- Special programs to end discrimination against minority women, disabled women, lesbians, rural women, older women and women in prison.

- Action to assist battered wives and victims of rape and child abuse. (The declaration describes women as "victims of violence in a culture that degrades us as sex objects and promotes pornography for profit.")

- Federal funding of comprehensive, voluntary, quality child care and developmental programs, with services accessible to all who need them, regardless of income.

- Welfare reform to "change the focus of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program from providing custodial services to children to assisting heads of families on AFDC, if they are able to work, to get off welfare and to support themselves and their dependents."

- Other recommendations propose to overcome discrimination against women in elective and appointive office, in the arts and humanities, the mass media, credit, insurance and collection of statistical data.

Finally, the plan proposes that the Congress and the President establish a Cabinet-level Women's Department in the executive branch of the federal government "to help insure that all persons are guaranteed equal opportunities without regard to sex."

Establishing a Cabinet-level department, headed by a woman, the plans say "would bring the needs and interests of the broadest possible spectrum of women to the attention of the President and federal decision-makers and would provide a mechanism to follow up on the recommendations."

The declaration concludes: "We demand immediate and continuing action on our national plan by federal, state, public and private institutions so that by 1985, the end of the International Decade for Women, everything possible under the law will have been done to provide American women with full equality."

Traffic woes to decrease

When Michigan's 700,000-strong "redcoat army" heads north for the firearm deer season, hunters should encounter few traffic problems because the Nov. 15 opener comes at mid week, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Since this season opens on a Tuesday, the bulk of hunter traffic should be spread over the weekend prior to opening day," said Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

Traffic bound for the northern two-thirds of Michigan Friday and Saturday should approach that of a summer weekend, but northbound flow Sunday and Monday should be much heavier than usual.

Northbound traffic should be heaviest at the following times:

- Friday between 4 and 9 p.m.
- Saturday between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m.
- Sunday between 1 and 10 p.m.
- Monday between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Hunters may be slowed during peak travel times at two points, Auto Club advised. Northbound US-131 is closed between Wealthy and Pearl streets in Grand Rapids. Traffic is detoured via M-11 (28th St) and I-196 adding 6.2 miles to the normal route.

Northbound I-75 just south of the Zilwaukee Bridge near Saginaw is reduced from three lanes to two. Motorists can avoid possible congestion by taking northbound I-696, rejoining I-75 a mile north of the bridge.

No other construction projects on roads leading north should seriously affect deer hunter traffic.

Mackinac Bridge officials expect approximately 25,000 hunter-vehicle crossings both ways before the firearm deer season ends Nov. 30 up nearly 5 percent over last season.

Between 100,000 and 105,000 deer should be taken this season. The majority of hunters are expected to take to the woods in the north central Lower Peninsula.

Hunters are reminded that they must wear either a hat, vest or coat of blaze orange to hunt on public lands.

TV program honors women

In honor of International Women's Week and the National Women's Conference to be held Nov. 18-21 in Houston, Tex., Channel 56 will be showing a week of special programs focusing on women.

The programs will be aired during the evening starting Nov. 15 and running through Nov. 21. Here are the program highlights of the week.

"Georgia O'Keeffe" (Nov. 15, 8 p.m.) A profile of the famed American woman artist featuring a rare interview from Mrs. O'Keeffe's New Mexico home. Produced by woman filmmaker Perry Miller Adato.

"Arvilla" (Nov. 15, 9 p.m.) Arvilla is a subsistence farmer in upstate New York. Through a series of circumstances, both within her and beyond her, she has come to live a life of simplicity and struggle.

"To Be a Man" (Nov. 18, 10:30 p.m.) A documentary exploring the parallel issue of men's liberation and revealing that men as well as women are victims of sexual stereotyping.

"Me and Stella" (Nov. 19, 8:30 p.m.) Taj Mahal gives a personal and historical portrait of Elizabeth Cotton and her influence on the blues.

"Visions": "All I Could See from Where I Stood" (Nov. 20, 10 a.m.) An original play by Elizabeth Clark in which a teen-ager decides to marry to escape her alcoholic mother.

"Union Maids" (Nov. 21, 9 p.m.) A documentary about three women who were part of the early union movement of the 1930s.

Channel 56 will complete its special women's programming on Nov. 21, at 11 p.m. with a 60-minute summary highlighting the events of the National Women's Conference.

Forest to play role in fuel use

Is there another, newer role the forest can play in high volume production of energy? Department of Natural Resources Forestry Chief Hank Webster thinks there is, at least until other energy sources can be developed on a large scale.

Paper and other wood processing companies in Michigan have long used essentially waste wood to create power, he pointed out. One plant, long a user of bark residue, is now testing the use of twigs, chips and other wastes to produce steam power and heat.

A public utility, the Marquette Board of Light and Power, is near the end of a test of mixing wood chips with coal to produce electricity. Not more than 20 percent wood chips in the mixture seems feasible, but the test also indicates more uniform, smaller size chips burn more readily with coal.

Next spring, Michigan Technological University plans a study, using different chipping equipment in the forest, in the search for a small, uniform size chip product. A 40-acre Michigamme State Forest tract close to the utility has been chosen for a thinning out project of non-merchantable, small diameter hardwoods.

Are wood chips as a supplementary fuel economically competitive? Yes, judging from several studies showing a cost of $1 to produce a million BTUs of energy from pure wood, as compared to $1.15 for comparable energy from pure coal.

Webster also observed that wood chips could become even more competitive if coal and other fuel prices continue to rise.

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT A TRUST?

Your bank's Trust Officer may be the best source of information about whether or not you should be setting up a trust—but here are a few thoughts to start with. Is the size of your estate large enough to warrant the care, advice and management of a professional? It may be, if you own shares in a business, have investments in a securities portfolio, or have income-producing real estate.

Does your wife have experience with financial affairs? If not, creating a trust and selecting a professional at a bank or trust company to manage your estate's finances might be a wise move.

Does your will (and your wife's will) convey your wishes for the care and education of your children (or grandchildren, too, for that matter)? Selecting and naming a guardian and arranging a trust NOW may be the best way to avoid grim legal entanglements later on.

When the future financial security and comfort of your family is concerned, you'll want to attend to them promptly and while you're of good mind and body. We can help you pre-plan your funeral, but for financial counsel we suggest a local bank trust officer.

Shake hands

Congressman William D. Ford of Michigan's 15th Congressional District, congratulated President Jimmy Carter at the White House Rose Garden, following the Presidential Signature of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Amendments of 1977. Congressman Ford is a member of the Education and Labor Committee, which drafted the original bill. The legislation extends the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 for another three years and authorizes expenditures of $525 million for that period. The money is used to help states, local governments and private agencies prevent and treat the growing problem of juvenile delinquency.

An editorial opinion

Hot dogs, highways, apple pie and the SST

The continuing court battles over the City of New York's refusal to allow landings of the SST, point up the arrival of a new and ominous threat to the continuation of our Democratic principles.

The SST (Supersonic Transport), the near 2000 mph flying machine developed jointly by France and Great Britain, has been charged with posing a potential threat to the earth's environment as well as being a substantial contributor to the 'noise pollution' problems faced daily by Americans.

As evidenced by the U.S. pulling out of the SST race, problems created by the SST are by no means considered small. But the basic question seems to remain, does a duly elected official body have the right to regulate, for the benefit of the public, those activities or procedures that have been deemed undesirable? And does the State have a right to override the decision of the Federal Government on any issue?

We feel that if our system of government is to survive, the answer to both questions must be yes.

Completely aside from the arguments surrounding the possible harm to the earth's environment that may result from the proliferation of SST type aircraft, we feel that a larger issue is involved.

Several years ago the Federal government set aside Michigan's strict requirements concerning the content of meat products.

The U.S. Government determined that it would be a better judge of the quality of meat products consumed by Michigan consumers, and to that end 'decreed' that Michigan could not enforce its stricter requirements for the content of meat products.

Consequently, out of state meat packers were able to start shipping inferior products into Michigan, and Michigan packers were able to reduce their own standards. Who won? Only the meat packers, certainly not the consumers of Michigan.

Several years ago the Federal Government 'decreed' that Michigan's road building specifications exceeded U.S. standards.

In order for Michigan to continue receiving Federal funds for its road building projects, Michigan would have to lower its standards and comply with Federal specifications, thereby reducing the normal lifespan of our state's highways as well as increasing, in the long run, the overall cost of maintaining roads. Ironically, it was Michigan's vast reserve of gravel and sand that had provided our engineers with the opportunity of building the finest quality roads in the country. Who benefited from our reduced road specifications? No one, unless you consider the contractors building and repairing our state's road system.

Now, the Federal government has apparently decided that an SST landing in New York would not bother them at all. Their palatial estates carved out of solid granite in Washington will not ever hear the objectionable roar of the SST.

The issue surrounding the landing rights for the SST seem to hinge on the 'Constitutional rights' of the developers of the SST. A Federal court in New York will now make the decision on the SST since the duly elected officials representing the citizens, who will be forced to bear the burdens, have not done the job 'right'.

We feel that the continued encroachment of the judicial into the legislative branch of government could destroy in a few years, what it took hundreds to develop.

It is time for the U.S. judicial system to realize that maybe they don't have, or were they ever intended to have, the absolute right to decide what is best for the citizens of a Democracy.

Boyish ambitions lost to times

By BOB AMEEN

Years ago when someone would ask a small boy what he wanted to be when he grew up, he would often respond that he wanted to be a policeman.

In fact, this answer was one of the most often given by lads, who were often the readers of comic book heroes and who grew up listening to the adventurous exploits of the men in blue from their parents and friends.

This boyish ambition evidently stemmed from a desire to emulate their childhood idols, who they looked upon as their protectors and someone they could turn to for help in any emergency.

Today, it would be safe to say that not many youngsters would wish to become a police officer in adulthood. Increasing crime, especially in our nation's metropolitan areas, has made this profession one of the more dangerous to follow.

But being a hazardous way to make a living is not the only deterrent to becoming a "cop" in this day and age. Whereas a police officer was almost universally looked up to and respected by the majority of the general public, in some quarters today, he is actually despised and looked down upon.

During the tumultuous last few years, with such outbreaks as the Chicago riot and the confrontation at Kent State University, law enforcement officers became the target of anti-establishment groups of young people and the object of their scorn.

So vehement were these spoiled young products of an over-permissive society, that in their wrath against authority, they threw rocks, bricks and bags filled with human excrement at police officers.

The wonder of the whole upshot, in reflection, was that more youth were not injured or killed by law enforcement officers pushed beyond the limits of human restraint. It is to the credit of thousands of policemen across the nation that they handled the bulk of sensitive outbreaks with coolness, compassion and understanding worthy of a saint.

Although the last half of the 1970s has witnessed a slowdown in such demonstrations and a more objective and less critical view of the establishment by our young people, today's police officers have more than their hands full in performing their sworn duties to uphold law and order.

Society has always owed a vote of sincere thanks and appreciation to those who guard our welfare and our safety, but even more so today. More and more police agencies are upgrading their force with college graduates and providing top quality on-the-job training supplemented by periodic refresher courses and seminars. Such "extras" are a necessity for law enforcement officers to keep pace with modern-day crime and the latest techniques used by lawbreakers.

The average citizen does not stop to think that each and everytime a police officer goes on routine patrol that he is putting his life on the line. Most officers are married and have families. Recent statistics show that many police marriages end in divorce due to pressures of the job and mounting dissatisfaction by spouses with the total commitment displayed by their husbands to their jobs.

Law enforcement officers at all levels are to be commended for their dedication, loyalty and perseverance in performing a difficult job under the most trying of circumstances.

In the course of their duties, officers are a combination of protector, father confessor, brother, buddy and all-around rescuer in emergency situations. The roles they play run the gamut in the interplay of sensitive human emotions with the rigidity of the laws that protect the general populace.

Policemen of all kinds deserve a pat on the back from all of us and our utmost cooperation in helping them carry out their sworn tasks, many of them thankless.

The final truth

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

Well it's over for another two years.

Election '77 will go down in the books as just one more example of this imperfect system's attempts to live up to our founding fathers' concept of Democracy.

It was born in February while chill winds were blowing. Political hopefuls were planning their strategies and lining up their help. Fund raisers were scheduled to fill the campaign coffers for the coming fight, and political line-ups were being considered.

Election '77's first steps were taken in April with the ordering of the first campaign materials, and the establishment of tentative slates.

Reaching adolescence, our 'monster' to be' began his flirtation with fickle friends, most of whom were more dedicated to their own causes rather than his. His youth and unbridled enthusiasm often clouded his vision, but he struggled on toward the age of responsibility.

Finally reaching his goal of independence from guiding hands, Election '77, began to flex his new muscles. Making and breaking deals at a hectic pace, 'cocksure' that within his breast lay all answers to all questions. Never had he been so sure of the righteousness of his cause. This glorious period in the development of our hero would prove to be a brief interlude before the uncertainty of middle age set in.

In stark contrast to a previous time, Election '77 was for the first time feeling the pangs of nagging doubts. Unsure that he was following the best course, he soon fell into the habit of relying more heavily on friends and advisors for the critical answers to important questions. His course was changing from the steadfast 'straight and narrow' of an earlier time, to a reactionary 'zig-zag'. Gone forever were the 'cocksure' days of old. From now on, the burning causes of youth would be set aside in favor of the expediency of reality.

With the chill winds of late October blowing gently through the deserted limbs of silent trees, Election 77 realized that his days were numbered.

If he were ever to make a lasting contribution to the causes he so faithfully had championed, he would have to reach down within himself for one last effort. But this time, with little time left, he would try to recapture a bit of his flaming youth, a bit of his former blush of confidence. If he were to ever right the situation, this would be his last and most glorious effort. For what good would the fight have been if in the final outcome defeat was the result.

The voting machines were locked and rolled back into their closet.

Election '77 was gone.

From the distant past came the epitaph for our fallen hero. High on a hill overlooking the scarred battlefield came the voice of the eulogizer....."The world will little note nor long remember what we say here.....but what they did here....."

The final truth.

Election '77 will not be remembered for what was said, rather what was done and what was started.

For in the final analysis, the score is remembered but rarely the players or the game.

Health Beat

PCHA no 'cuckoo's nest'

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

We continued our conversation with Ms. White, the Head Nurse in the mental health service at the Heritage Hospital.

You may have noticed that we have used the term mental health rather than psychiatric service. There is a good reason for such usage. "It appears," said Ms. White, "that there are some people in the community who feel threatened by the word psychiatric."

They seem to conjure up unrealistic and horrifying meanings to that word. Frankly, I'm distressed by such reactions, but I suppose I can understand. After all, the popular press, movies, and TV so often seem to enjoy portraying all clients in a service such as ours as being depraved rapists and murderers. I assure you, nothing could be further from the truth."

Our next question, then, was obvious: what types of clients do receive service in the mental health unit?

"Most of our clients are suffering from mild to serious neuroses. True, we have worked with some psychotics, but in this setting (Heritage Hospital) psychotics are the exception rather than the rule," she said.

She explained that a neurotic was a person experiencing a functional nervous disorder which seems not to have any demonstrable physical origins.

They are people—perhaps like many of us on the 'outside'—who have yet to select appropriate defense mechanisms to cope with the problems and stresses which are a normal part of life.

It becomes the responsibility of the mental health professionals to work with, and thus teach these people the art of introspection. Introspection, incidentally, can be simply defined as the ability to examine one's own thoughts and feelings to arrive at proper assessments of a situation and then respond appropriately.

A neurotic can be one suffering from a simple problem (he might overreact momentarily to a simple stress situation) or conversely, he can be one who files into a rage and curses and kicks the inanimate objects of his environment, and basically acts like a small child who has been denied his desires.

Mental disease, then, shows reactions that reproduce types of responses to a specific situation that were at one time normal either in the history of the individual—infancy and childhood—or in the history of race-primitive man.

It should be understood, however, that there are times when such reactions are displayed by the relatively normal; the basic difference is in the degree of reaction.

Ms. White said that most of the 30 clients in the mental health service at Heritage were voluntary admissions. "These clients are people who have recognized on their own, or who have been told, that they have some problems."

They have agreed that there is some benefit to our service and have come into the unit. They are free to leave if they wish; all they must do is sign a form which gives us a 72-hour notice of their intent to leave.

Of course, if in the judgment of the chief of the service (an MD psychiatrist working in concert with the other professionals) such a remission to the general society is contraindicated, we will seek a court order to prevent for the time being the remission.

We do have a serious obligation both to the client and to the society outside of the hospital environment. Denial of a request, however, is rare."

We asked Ms. White who her clients were, and what precisely brought them to the mental health service.

She smiled and said, "That question is loaded and I can't address it in specific terms because of the confidentiality implicit in the client-hospital relationship. However, I'll say this. We have, or have had, clients ranging from pre-teens to over age 80. They are black and white, short and tall, male and female, atheist and believer. In short, we certainly operate a democratic service."

"It might do some good to spell out to your readers in gory detail the horrors of incest which can leave a young girl severely traumatized; stories of abusive alcoholics who drive their spouses into our unit; or talk about young people who were unmercifully beaten by their parents and reach adulthood not giving a damn about their personal conduct or feeling any obligation to society."

But we will talk about that next week.

From the State Senate

Traffic safety a major concern of the Senate

Traffic safety is an area of major concern to all Michigan residents — particularly in light of the recent number of double bottom tanker accidents on our highways.

I believe that we can make significant progress in bringing about greater driving safety by strengthening one area of Michigan's current Vehicle Code — that is, the manner in which driver's licenses are obtained.

What I am recommending is a major revision in the state's driver's licensing procedures. Legislation which I introduced last week would make this revision by requiring that driver's skills and knowledge of the specific vehicle he or she will be driving be tested instead of the present procedure in which a rather generalized understanding of traffic laws is almost all that is required for a license.

My legislation will require that drivers of trucks and buses pass a comprehensive written exam and road test before being certified to take the vehicles on the road.

Under current law, drivers of trucks and buses need only obtain an operator's or chauffeur's license to drive these vehicles, a requirement which I believe inadequately tests a driver's ability to handle larger vehicles such as commercial buses or tandem trucks.

The additional testing authorized by my legislation should end the present procedure whereby a driver of a bus or a tandem trailer truck can obtain a chauffeur's license by passing a fairly generalized written test and taking a road test in a compact car.

According to terms of the bill, two additional endorsements would be created on either an operator's or chauffeur's license.

A class one endorsement would be required of any person who drives a bus, school bus or single motor vehicle weighing over 24,000 pounds gross vehicle weight.

A class two endorsement would be required of any person who drives any combination of vehicles weighing over 24,000 pounds gross vehicle weight or any vehicle towing a vehicle weighing over 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight.

The class one and class two endorsements would be issued in a manner similar to the present motorcycle endorsement. This means that an applicant must first obtain an operator's or chauffeur's license in order to apply for a class one or class two endorsement.

Applicants for either endorsement would be required to pass written examinations designed to test skills and knowledge relating to the type of vehicle to be driven. Road tests would also be given, although the Secretary of State could waive this requirement in cases where the applicant is judged to have sufficient experience and training.

In closing, I would like to note that the measure was drafted in conjunction with the office of Secretary of State and has this agency's support. Passage of the measure, I believe, would help ensure that the tandem truck drivers meet the requirement for increased training in operating the vehicles as outlined in the state fire marshal's emergency tanker rules.

By State Senator David A. Plawewski
12th District

Dear Dave:

I was pleased to hear of the Special Award given you and your publications by the State of Michigan during the observance of National Press Week.

This recognition was highly deserved, based on my own observations of the Associated Newspapers since you brought them "back into the family." You have been doing an outstanding job of local coverage.

The highest tribute I can pay is to say that your father would be proud — of you and of the newspaper chain he founded.

Congratulations, the best wishes for continued success.

In closing, I would like to make it clear this letter is not written in support of or in opposition to either the school millage or any political candidate. It is just my desire to see some sort of fairness in dealing with our children and issues affecting them.

Would Torrijos be dependable U. S. ally?

Letter to the Editor:

Would Panamanian dictator Torrijos be a dependable ally under the proposed Panama Canal treaties?

The massive campaign to hand over our Panama Canal to a dictator friend of Fidel Castro is a classic example of how Washington officials flout the democratic process on national security issues.

Again and again these officials back down under the slightest pressure and surrender our vested rights around the world while, at the same time, they reduce our military capability to defend these rights.

There is no question as to the value of the Canal to both U.S. security and the U.S. economy. It is hard to understand the merit of giving away the very expensive Canal to a pro-communist dictator and also paying him to take it. It just isn't good business. What has Torrijos done to deserve this outlandish gift?

He has warned our government that there will be guerrilla warfare against us in Panama if we don't turn it over to him. That's diplomatic terrorism. This same threat of guerrilla warfare is also used by giveaway advocates as the final clinching argument for the treaties.

The treaties would move most of our military out of the Panama Canal Zone and would turn over control of 64 percent of the Zone to Panama now — not in the year 2000. More so, Panamanian officials have said that, in time of war, our warships would not have priority — not even priority over enemy warships.

Good Lord, we have even agreed not to build a sea level canal anywhere in Central America unless Panama approves!

Talk is cheap, spend 13 cents and write your senator and tell him how you expect him to vote on this issue. After all, it's your pride and money.

Janet Louise Burns

April 4, 1927–November 3, 1977

She devoted her life to the newspaper business

Janet L. Burns, longtime advertising director for the News Herald Newspapers, died Thursday.

A Grosse Ile resident, Mrs. Burns, 50, began her newspaper career as a writer with the Monroe Evening News, and later worked in advertising for the Toledo Times and The Detroit News.

In May of 1950, she joined the News Herald staff as a advertising salesperson and was appointed advertising director in 1966.

She was honored last year by PANAX Corporation, parent firm of the News Herald for her 25 years of service to the newspaper.

Mrs. Burns added another accomplishment to a long list of honors when sne won first place in 1976 for the "For the advertising idea of the year" in the Michigan Press Association (MPA) annual statewide competition.

Born in White Plains, New York, she later moved to Michigan with her family and graduated from Monroe High. Mrs. Burns attended the University of Michigan and won a bachelor of arts degree in journalism, political science and economics from the University of Toledo.

She also was a graduate student for three years at Wayne State University working toward a master of arts degree.

A member of Alpha Omicron Phi (social) sorority at the University of Toledo, Mrs. Burns was the past president of both the Wayne State University Press Club and the Michigan Press Advertising Managers' Association.

Mrs. Burns was MPA Conference chairman in 1974 and belonged to the Women's Advertising Club of Detroit, Merchants' Association of Wyandotte, Southern Wayne County Chamber of Commerce, Waters' Edge Country Club and Ford Yacht Club (both on Grosse Ile), Grosse Ile's Schoo PTA and Band Boosters, Theta Sigma Phi, and women's honorary journalism society.

She is survived by her husband, Robert L. Sr.; a son, Robert L. Jr., a daughter, Sheryl, her mother, Mrs. Marguerite Zanes, and two brothers, Robert Zanes of Washington D.C. and Charles Zanes, of Douglas Arizona.

Services were held Monday at St. James Episcopal Church, Grosse Ile, with Rev. Gilbert Runkel officiating, and burial in Oak Ridge in Brownstown Township. Arrangements were made R.J. Nixon Funeral Home, Wyandotte.

You will be missed

Janet Burns will be missed.

In 1950, a young girl 23-years-old walked into a newspaper office in Wyandotte and began. She began a career at the Wyandotte News Herald which not only earned her the respect of newspaper colleagues, but the position of Advertising Director of News Herald Publications.

To our knowledge, Janet was the only woman Advertising Director in the State, and she handled her position with a dedication and a ruggedness that demanded the respect of all who knew her.

And yet she was a lady. Her friends will long reflect on Janet's sensitivity to the feelings and troubles of others. Yet she was tough when she needed to be.

She read ad proofs in the composing room while her labor pains occurred more frequently. "Let's go to the hospital," Janet was told. "Wait a minute, I've got to get these ads read," was Janet's reply. She was a back to work in two days. When the office burned down she was in searching through the rubble before the fire was out, looking for anything that would help put the next week's edition out.

She badgered the Publisher into keeping the papers going when he was ready to take the insurance and shut it down.

Janet Burns made an outstanding contribution to the newspaper field. She set an example for us with sister community newspapers, to attempt to live up to.

Janet died last Thursday. Suddenly. Unexpectedly. Her family, and those of us who knew her, are stunned. We feel a deep sense of loss and yet we are grateful. Grateful that we had known her.

Good-bye Janet. You will be missed.

'What's courtesy?' the kid asked

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

Courtesy is an important word. In my thirty years of kid-rearing it was important to me that my little ones learn the proper usage of that word, as well as its intent.

When onesat on the sink chomping away at an apple while kicking at his brother; when one would look for the jar of peanut butter to spread on his loaf of bread, and the other had the jar stuffed in his shirt; when one was down on the floor wiping up the orange juice he had spilled when his sister bopped him over the head, I would wave my gravy ladle at them and say, "Remember if you want others to treat you with courtesy, then you must be polite to them."

"What's courtesy?" the kid with the mouth full of apple would always ask.

"Courtesy is being kind to one another. To speak gently. To be polite. To do unto others as you would have others do unto you," I would say.

"Then Allan ain't polite." Fred would say grabbing Allan around the neck in his attempt to get the peanut butter.

"And you ain't courteous!" Allan would shout, kicking at his brother.

That's when I would forget my lecture and knock a couple of heads together.

"Mother, aren't parents supposed to be courteous, too?" my daughter would ask, wiping her shoes on the dish towel.

"Naturally," I would say gasping for breath while holding off the two angry kids.

"Humph," she would snort, and grabbing the littlest kid's apple would sally off to school.

But eventually they learned, and in no time at all I had four courteous young people jumping out of the nest, which left only two still struggling.

The other evening my boy came home and plopped down on the floor in front of the fire.

"Mother," he said, "Aren't adults supposed to practice a little bit of that courtesy stuff? Does it always have to be us kids doing the polite routine?"

"Of course," I said. "How can young people learn to be courteous if adults aren't polite?"

"Well, you would have been proud of me tonight," he said.

Pulling my chair up closer to the fire and so that I could see his face, I asked him to tell me all about it. And then I waited. The kid squirmed around, fussing with his camera and his belt. After taking off his shoes and throwing his socks on the coffee table he said:

"You know I was supposed to take pictures tonight of the basketball game for my high school paper. I got permission from the assistant principal of that school and I was down there taking pictures, when I had to go out for a minute.

"When I got back in, the principal came up to me and grabbed me by my shirt and hollered, 'What do you think you are doing in here?' I told him I had permission to take pictures from the assistant principal and he hollered, 'I'm the assistant's boss and I say you can't. So get out of here.' And he shoved me. But I was courteous."

"Oh," I breathed.

"I didn't knock his teeth out, and I didn't punch him in the nose. That was courtesy. I just got out of there."

"That's good," I said.

"Yeah, he probably could have taken me. You're right, Mom, it pays to be courteous."

And he went downstairs to do some more weightlifting.

"Just in case I forget to be courteous sometime," he told me.

Advisory committee antics appalling

To the Editor:

I am really appalled that some members of a recently appointed advisory committee to our schools would take an issue so vital to our children's welfare so lightly and use it for political advantages.

The reason I am writing to you is because as a member of the Advisory Committee, I feel the public should know the truth.

I would like, at this time, to challenge the report of the Citizens Advisory Committee, which was appointed to study the facts relative to the school millage proposal. As a member of that committee, I was very disappointed and disgusted to see that very little information was actually reviewed. The report submitted in no way reflects an in-depth study of the problem. No comparisons were made with other districts on costs, revenues or expenditures.

I was actually amazed when Doug Baum, Chairman of the Committee, said to us, "you have been appointed to help pass the school millage." I honestly thought we were supposed to determine if there was a need for it, and if so, how much was needed, how are children would be affected and what benefits they would receive in education.

The report now being issued does not even show how the various decisions were reached. It is my duty, I believe, to relate to the public why this is so and tell a little bit of what went on in those meetings.

The first meeting we had, Mr. Baum gave a political speech on behalf of Mr. Oakley. Most of the entire meeting was spent on knocking Mr. Troutt. Almost a third of the 34 hours in which we met was spent on political speeches. Mr. Troutt's first wife's funeral was even discussed.

Citizens involved in the recall of the School Board were called "ignorant" along with those people that had enrolled their children in Huron Township Schools. A lot of time was spent knocking School Board Members Shirley Lombardi and Wayne Avery for not voting to pull the school buses off the road.

At other meetings, dead bodies, suits and dresses were discussed. There were many slanderous charges levied at Mr. Troutt and it was and is my opinion that this committee was formed to help elect Mr. Oakley; not as a service to the community as I was originally led to believe.

I say this only because Mr. Baum, not only was campaigning for Mr. Troutt's opposition, but encouraged others to do the same. They even called the City

CB World

Why not a CB 'Family Night'?

By JANICE PLESIEWICZ
Nightbird KNN 5032

Did you ever think of setting one night aside as a family night with the CB radio? Why not? It's being done in many families.

Most people buy a CB radio and install it in their car so that they can better communicate with the outside world. Most sets sold today are mobile units. It takes some time before these people realize that they can communicate better if they have two radios, so a second unit usually is installed in the family car. After a while they find that the car-to-car communications are excellent, but they are lacking in a sense because they cannot communicate with the people that are at home. This is the point where the serious minded CBER installs a base unit.

The base unit should be installed in a convenient place where it is easily accessible to the entire family, especially the one who will use it the most. Monitoring Channel 9 is a good start for families to get involved in CB night at home.

Base units are bringing more and more families together again. You might find members of your family spending more and more time at home. As with anything else though, sometimes this plan will work and sometimes it won't, but it's worth a try.

If you're interested in setting up a base for this purpose you might want to know how to go about it. First, you need a base unit, including an antenna, which you can purchase for under $200. The installation part of it is not difficult, but make sure you read the directions. The next most important part is to make sure that all members of the family that are going to use the base know how to operate it and a re familiar with the FCC rules and regulations.

It might make you a little mad if someone in the family blows out the unit because they keyed the mike while the coax was not connected.

Once you have the base installed start talking with your neighbors, you own family auto or even the truckers. A valid FCC license must be in your possession and a copy of the FCC rules and regulations Part

95. Children should be made aware that the CB radio is not a toy. You are the person legally responsible for their conduct on the airwaves.

Probably, the best thing to do is sit back and listen for awhile before you start talking. Remember Channels 9 and 19 probably are the most exciting channels of all, there is quite a difference between the two so make sure you know how to conduct yourself on each one. A base station, or any CB radio for that matter can open up the world to you.

Shut-ins and the handicapped can finally have a means of being in touch with what's going on in the world via their own communications system.

The use of CB communications around the neighborhood and household is a good idea at all times. More and more families have turned off the old boob tube to turn on to CB radio. If it helps bring a family closer together then it's worth the time and investment. Try it, you might like it.

YMCA spearheads new fitness program

The Metropolitan Detroit Area YMCA is spearheading a new fitness program concept that includes the screening and evaluation of all its fitness participants.

The screening process involves checking the four commonly accepted risk areas—smoking history, cholesterol, blood pressure and percent of body fat. Minimum risk levels have been established, using accepted medical standards and advice from the organization's Medical Advisory Committee.

If the screening indicates the risk results to be less than the established minimum, the participant then can participate in a fitness evaluation to include measuring cardio-respiratory endurance, body composition, flexibility and muscular strength and endurance.

The evaluations are used to measure a person's present fitness level compared to national averages.

The program will be Nov. 19 from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Wayne-Westland YMCA, 827 S. Wayne Road, Westland. The cost is $15 for members and $25 for non-members.

Registration can be completed by mail or by contacting the YMCA at 791-7044.

WCCC trustees give OK to admistrative reorganization

At its Oct. 26 meeting, the Board of Trustees of Wayne County Community College adopted the recommendations of College President Dr. Reginald Wilson for a substantial administrative reorganization plan. The plan entails the most significant reorganization in the 10-year history of Michigan's second largest 2-year college. Its approval was in response to the $80 million development of new, regional campuses across Wayne County. "Given the reality of a fast-moving and major capital outlay program operative at WCCC," explained Dr. Wilson, "the necessity for the creation of new organizational svstems for effective management became more apparent each day, especially in view of the college's unique features." Wilson continued: "Last year, the Board of Trustees approved the prototype concept and assumptions upon which it is based. Since then a prototype pilot program has been in various stages of operation at the Greenfield campus, the first of five such campuses. With the recent opening of the first units of our Downtown campus and next August's opening of our third campus, the Downriver installation in Taylor, it is imperative that we harmonize our personnel organization with our institutional goals and facility setup."

Wayne County Community College, in its efforts to provide housing for an ambitious array of up-to-date occupational-technical programs, is expected to complete its five campus development plan in 1981. The major new facilities, along with a complex of satellite instructional centers will accommodate upwards of 30,000 students.

"We anticipate that the benefits of our new plan would be a more effective, efficient, and balanced regionalized system addressed to today's and tomorrow's educational needs of metropolitan Detroit," concluded Wilson.

Antiques Market benefits Goodwill

Something old... Nothing new.... That's what visitors to the League-Goodwill Booth at the 30th Annual Junior Goodwill Antiques Market and Sale, to be held at Fairlane Manor on Hubbard Drive near Southfield in Dearborn, 10, 11 and 12, will find. This year's show will feature 52 dealers displaying some of the most desirable antiques to be found in the Midwest. Dealers from the south, east, and London, England, in addition to the surrounding area, will have space in the show. As usual, the League-Goodwill booth will be one of the most popular in the show. Featured will be a multitude of items contributed to the non-profit vocational rehabilitation agency from homes of Detroit area residents to help further the training and employment of the handicapped. According to Milton Hunter, League-Goodwill's furniture department supervisor, there will be a wide assortment of walnut and oak chests and dressers available this year. An unusual collection of antique doorknobs also will be displayed and sold. Sheila Ryan, League-Goodwill retail supervisor, has spent a lot of time the past several months going over literally thousands of pieces of china, glassware and silver, and jewelry to sort out and price those items worthy of display in the show. Although League-Goodwill have a large selection of items for the true antiques lover, additional items are needed to round out the collection. Anyone having an item to donate for sale in the show should contact the Public Relations Department at 964-3900 for pickup of their contribution. The show will be open to the general public from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Nov. 10 and 11, and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Nov. 12.

Institutions: 'The Big Prison Break'

Note: Those of us without a particular disability often have difficulty realizing the magnitude of the effect it can have on a person's life. Bill Kiser, who has Cerebral Palsy, spent 12 years in various institutions, which he sees as comparable to incarceration.

Now from the vantage point of his hard-won independence, he shares his thoughts in the "big prison break".

One of the greatest prison breaks in history is taking place—without triggering massive manhunt or capturing newspaper headlines. People with various types of disabilities are escaping from imprisonment in all types of institutions. Many of these prisoners were doomed to a life of incarceration for the crime of simply being different. The only thing they have in common is that society has decreed that they must live apart.

The public has held many different concepts of institutional life, ranging from mental hospitals as "snake pits" to so-called "patient's utopias". Whatever the quality of care that these institutions have provided, by necessity the lives of those who live in them have to be strictly regulated.

It would be unfair to condemn all institutions, for many of these facilities have provided their handicapped clients with a better life than they could have had elsewhere. Tragically, however, most people—including the handicapped themselves—have assumed that institutionalization was a natural response to certain types of mental and physical conditions.

Although I have had a severe case of Cerebral Palsy all my life, the threat of institutionalization was not real for me until the death of my mother in my 20s. By the grace of God and the support of a few people, along with a little fast talking on my part, I got to stay home two weeks before being committed to our state training school for the mentally retarded. Those weeks turned into two months and ended up with my living home, alone, for seven years. Unsuccessful brain surgery then gave me what appeared to be a life sentence to institutional life. The 12 years that followed both changed my life and gave me a new appreciation for freedom. Nursing homes provided physical care, but limited psychological stimulation. Then I entered a rehabilitation center for a 3-month evaluation, which resulted in a 5-year dormitory residence.

My main goal in life soon became that of getting out of all institutions. Because of my multiple handicaps, this seemed to be an impossible task. Not only did I need accessible living quarters and a certain amount of physical assistance, I needed a job in order to pay for these other things. In my case this required not only the cooperation of a number of agencies working for the handicapped, but also a group of business and professional people who helped me establish my own business.

Today, other people with various disabilities are now making their own breaks to freedom. Whether we refer to this movement as deinstitutionalization or independent living, it is restoring the rights of full citizenship to thousands of Americans each year.

According to a survey conducted by the Association of Superintendents of Public Residential Facilities in 1976 there were 207 state institutions for the mentally retarded and developmentally disabled with a total bed capacity of 165,710. The same survey estimated an additional 10,779 people would be placed in institutions during the fiscal year 1977.

Humanitarian and civil rights considerations aside, society is slowly realizing that we cannot afford to keep these people in institutions. The cost is too great. Therefore, many government and private agencies now are joining forces, because often the handicapped, like the criminal, need outside help for a successful break to freedom.

Advanced technology, improved medical treatment and innovative rehabilitation programs can make it possible for more disabled people to join the great prison break. We must continue to upgrade all types of institutions. Even more important, we must work together to change the attitudes that confine handicapped people as effectively as do the walls of institutions. When we break out of the prison of stereotypes, then we all—handicapped and nonhandicapped alike—will be truly free.

Skilled professional services now available for Medicare persons

Home Health Care of Southeastern Michigan in Ann Arbor is a new not-for-profit agency established in the community to provide intermittent skilled professional services to persons eligible for Medicare benefits. These services are provided on a part time basis in the patient's own home as a transition from hospitalization to complete rehabilitation. These services may include: skilled nursing, physical therapy, speech therapy, occupational therapy, nurses aides and medical social services as prescribed by the patient's own physician.

All personnel are experienced professionals, fully trained and licensed in accord with state and federal regulations.

The agency philosophy states:

1. We believe that home health services are a vital link in the health delivery system to provide continuing care to patients in their own homes for the purpose of minimizing the effects of illness, accident or disability.

2. This agency is dedicated to the recognition of an aged and/or disabled person's intrinsic worth and to the recognition that those persons are entitled to regain maximum participation in society.

3. We recognize that the process of aging is an inevitable development of an individual and that chronic disease and disability may be an integral part of that development. The contributions of the aged are no less important than the contributions of other members of our society.

4. Therefore this agency commits to the rehabilitation of aged and/or disabled individuals within the structure of their home environment for the purpose of allowing maximum contribution, retention of self-respect and independence.

The agency goals are:

1. The provision of a coordinated team approach to therapeutic rehabilitation health care services utilizing skilled nursing, home health aides, medical social services, physical therapy, speech pathology and a system or referral follow-up and evaluation.

2. The provision of home health care services and training sufficient to ensure the patient and his family the assumption of personal responsibility for health and personal needs.

3. The provision of a review vehicle for continuous audit of the care a patient is receiving from the agency.

4. The recruitment and retention of highly qualified personnel through screening, testing, evaluation, probationary employment status, competitive compensation policies structured to recognize responsibility and a competitive comprehensive benefit package.

5. The provision of coordinated liaison with health and welfare agencies meeting the needs of the community through joint efforts, meetings and community awareness programs.

PREP project is new in Van Buren schools

The parent readiness education project (PREP) is a unique learning experience for pre-schoolers, parents and high school students of the Van Buren School District. Housed at the Tyler Road Elementary School, the PREP program is served by Carol Potter and Ins Keyes.

Goals of the PREP program are: to identify pre-school children with potential learning problems and develop a plan of remediation; to teach parents how to develop in these children skills which are necessary for academic achievement and to teach child development and management techniques; and to train high school students for more effective parenthood.

All children, who were tested or screened, had to be four years of age to qualify. Fifty-five youngsters, selected based upon readiness skills and parent willingness to participate, attend PREP two mornings or afternoons per week in groups of 15.

Each parent agrees to attend PREP classes one session with his or her child. The parent observes the child in the classroom and receives activities to do daily at home with the child. Parents meet in a group to discuss topics relating to raising and nurturing children. A second PREP teacher is with the parents for the entire morning.

Twelve high school seniors or juniors work individually with the pre-schoolers during the pre-school sessions. They attend weekly seminars with the PREP staff and receive high school credit in child development from Belleville High School.

Area hospitals offer free diabetes testing

Free testing for diabetes will be available at 141 hospitals and laboratories throughout Michigan during Diabetes Detection Week, Nov. 6-12. The testing is offered as a service of the American Diabetes Association, Michigan Affiliate (ADA-M) and cooperating hospitals.

Diabetes is the third leading cause of death in the United States. It is the leading cause of new blindness and a major cause of heart attack and kidney failure.

Persons who run a high risk of developing diabetes are those over 40 years old, overweight, the relatives of diabetics, or the mothers of children weighing 9 lbs. or more at birth.

According to Nancy Caputo, M.D., anyone at any age can become a diabetic. It is estimated that Michigan alone has nearly half a million diabetics.

The more common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, loss of weight, itching, tired easily, blurring vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches. The disease, however, can be present without symptoms.

Since early detection and treatment can, in the diabetic, prevent serious complications, everyone is encouraged to take advantage of the free blood test. The test takes only a few minutes and will be done by a professional laboratory technician.

Detection testing is limited to those over 18 years old who have not previously been diagnosed as having diabetes. To assure an accurate test, a big meal which is heavy in starches and sugars should be eaten approximately two hours before.

A good breakfast to have before the test, for example would be fruit or juice, cereal with milk and sugar, buttered toast with jam and coffee or tea. If you are planning to take the test after lunch, you should have a bowl of soup, a sandwich, cake or pie for dessert and a glass of milk. The meal should be eaten within a 15-minute time period and nothing else except water should be drunk or eaten before the test.

Local hospitals participating in the free testing will be:

—Wayne County General Hospital, Westland, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 9 and 9 to 11 a.m. Nov. 11;

—Heritage Hospital, 24775 Haig Avenue, Taylor, 9 to 11 a.m. Nov. 7, 7 to 9 p.m. Nov. 8 and 10, 1 to 3 p.m.

Nov. 9 and 9 to 11 a.m. Nov. 11;

—Annapolis Hospital laboratory, 33155 Annapolis Avenue, Wayne, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Nov. 7-11;

—Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, 6245 N. Inkster Road, Garden City, 1 to 3 p.m. Nov. 7-11; and —Plymouth Doctors Clinic, 1311 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, 2 to 8 p.m. Nov. 7 and 2 to 6 p.m. Nov. 8-11.

Bob Baker, j.g., guest conductor at pops concert

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

The Bakers - Bob and Mildred of Clarence Street - were in Saginaw Oct. 30 to see their son, Robert G. Baker Jr., "star" as guest conductor of the Saginaw Symphony Orchestra.

The Cabaret Pops Concert was held at the Fashion Square Mall Concourse in Saginaw where tables were set up for patrons to enjoy wine and cheese during intermission. The Bakers were among the young maestro's guests during the program which featured musical director and conductor Gideon Grau.

The junior Baker, president of a computer service and consulting firm, is president of the board of Musical Arts Inc. (MAI), an independent school of music which is basically a network of private and full-time music teachers.

His performance as guest conductor came about when he participated in an auction to raise funds for the Cabaret Pops Concert and found himself the eventual winner of the baton which had been donated by Boston Pops Conductor Arthur Fiedler.

Along with the baton, which he received after his $400 bid, he had the honor of selecting a piece to conduct at the concert. After consulting with Gideon Grau, he chose the Washington Post March by Sousa. His encore appearance saw him wielding the baton for Tritsch-Tratsch (Chit-Chat) Polka by Strauss.

Baker, who resides in Saginaw with his wife, Nina, and daughter, Natasha, is a former resident of Belleville having graduated from Belleville High School in 1962 and from Michigan State University in 1968.

Trip to India is memorable

Elda Bohl of Robson Road returned Oct. 29 from a 3-weeks tour of India which she found to be fascinating and interesting.

In Bombay she visited the home of Mahatma Gandhi and the 1200 year-old Elephanta Caves; at Calcutta saw the Queen Victoria Memorial, "Darjeeling," high in the mountains where she watched the sunrise over Mt. Everest.

At Katmandu in Nepal she visited temples and monasteries; at Varanasi, watched people bathing in the sacred Ganges; and at Agra visited the beautiful Taj Mahal, one of the seven wonders of the world.

An elephant ride was among the highlights at Jaipur where she rode to the Amber Fort, an ancient capital; at Delhi saw the Ram Leela Festival, Gandhi's tomb and the interesting "Sound and Light" at the Red Fort.

She also saw the President's House where President Carter will stay when he visits India. The last stop was beautiful Kashmir where she stayed aboard a houseboat on Nagin Lake surrounded by the snow-capped Himalayas. The trip to Gulmarg high in the Himalayas with its mountain peaks was truly picturesque, she said, as they rode horses part of the way and a ski lift to the top where there was snow on the ground.

"I enjoyed India very much," she said, "but it is not a trip for everyone. Accommodations are not always the best and you must be prepared to see poor people. However they seem to be happy and are not starving. Rice is their main agriculture crop along with vegetables. Their food is good and a large percentage of the people are vegetarians. I would go back again especially to Kashmir."

European sojourn is over

Two Romulus couples, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wonn and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, recently returned from a trip to Europe where they traveled through seven countries.

Arriving in Paris, France, they visited the Eiffel Tower, Arc de Triomphe, Notre Dame Cathedral and the Louvre and enjoyed a boat ride on the Seine River.

In Rome they relived history at the Colosseum and Roman Forum and saw the Sistine Chapel and St. Peter's Basilica and also spent time in Florence, Italy taking in its many historical sights.

Other highlights of their trip were a gondola ride on the Grand Canal in Venice; traveling through the Swiss Alps to Lucerne, Switzerland and stopping at the Rhine Falls, Black Forest and Frankfurt in Germany. They also passed the country's many castles and Lorelei Cliffs while cruising on the Rhine River.

Following dinner in Cologne, they continued on to Amsterdam, Holland where they took still another boat ride through the canals. Brussels, Belgium and London, England and its theatre shows and many attractions completed their tour.

'Amorous Flea' opens at Hilberry Theatre

The Hilberry Theatre's production of Moliere's "The School for Wives", which will open officially Nov. 16, will be presented in a musical adaptation, first produced in 1964. The comedy will be performed especially for Sponsors on Nov. 11 at the President's Preview, the official celebration of the Theatre's fifteenth season. It will continue in the repertory through Feb. 18. This musical version first opened at the East 78th Street Playhouse in New York City on Feb. 17, 1964, under the title "The Amorous Flea".

The book was written by Jerry Devine and music and lyrics by Bruce Montgomery. Moliere's "The School for Wives", perhaps the greatest success in the whole of the author's career, originally opened Dec. 26, 1662, at the Palais-Royal in Paris and was performed without interruption to full houses up until the Easter season of the following year. Immediately after the holiday it was revived and remained on the bill through August. "The Amorous Flea" musically brings to the stage all the characters Moliere created in "The School for Wives". At the center is Arnolphe, the middle-aged bachelor who attempts to control his chosen bride, Agnes, by controlling her education, or lack of it, from the age of four. Complications arise from the bumbling of his two servants, Alain and Georgette, charged with guarding the girl in his house, and from Horace, a handsome young man who falls in love with Agnes and makes things worse by making the old man his confidant.

Appearing in the cast are Erick Devine as Arnolphe, Cynthia Dozier as Agnes, Bruce Matley as Horace, Gerald B. Roe as Alain, Rhonda Smith as Georgette, George Christopher Kappaz as Chrysalde, John Morgan Lund as Enrique and Andrew Leo Dunn as Oronte. "The Amorous Flea" is directed by Robert T. Hazzard, with scenery by Russell Smith, costumes by Ellen Ryba and lighting by James A. Hatfield.

"The Winter's Tale" by William Shakespeare will have its Wayne State University Premier at the Bonstelle Theatre on Nov. 25, where it opens for a two-weekend run.

This allegorical romance of jealousy and reconciliation will play Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m., with Sunday matinees at 2 p.m., through Dec. 4.

"The Winter's Tale" is the type of story told to "while away a winter's evening" scholar Baldwin Maxwell noted, full of improbabilities, historical and geographical inaccuracies, yet "a story to send the hearers off to bed content with their lot and more tolerant of their fellow-men".

The first half of the play tells the story of King Leontes and Queen Hermione, a strong, emotional tragedy of sexual jealousy. The second half contains a boisterous rural comedy and ends in a fairy tale like discovery of a lost child and a magical scene of family reunion.

Magical and mystical are words frequently used to describe "The Winter's Tale".

"It takes the leap that fairy tales and science fiction always takes...a leap into a world of myth," according to the play's director, Robert Emmett McGill. Designers Susan Lambeth and D. R. Eastman have worked towards creating a timeless quality in the costumes and set for the show.

"We wanted no recognizable period or place where you'd ever been before," Ms. Lambeth said. She describes certain scenes from the play as "almost like dreaming..."

This WSU premier of "The Winter's Tale" is directed by McGill, with scenic design by Eastman, costumes by Ms. Lambeth, choreography by Nira Pullin, original music by Paul Prappas and lighting by Benjamin F. Levenberg. The cast includes Jeffrey Dreisbach of Bloomfield Hills as Leontes, Zdzislawa Gumul of Clinton Township as Hermione, Richard Servis as Polixenes and Timothy

Holton as Camille, both of Birmingham, Lonnie Fleischer of Southfield as Paulina, Mark

Village Players revive 'Pinocchio'

The Greenfield Village Players at the Henry Ford Museum Theatre will breathe new life into the puppet Pinocchio during December and January with an unique play, based on both familiar and little-known episodes from the original children's novel.

The performance will unfold many of Pinocchio's exploits that are missing from the well-known animated film, based loosely on the story. Dr. Joseph French, manager of the theater arts department of the Henry Ford Museum, wrote a script, based on the book by Carlo Collodi, first published in the United States in 1892.

After each performance, the children can meet some of the play's 50 characters. During the play, the humorous escapades with the fox and the cat, the frightening adventures with the evil puppet master, the false joys of pleasure island are all brought vividly to life.

Performances will be held Dec. 10, 17, 26-31, and Jan. 7 at 2 p.m., and Jan. 14 and 21 at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. In addition, there will be performances for school groups Dec. 12-16 at 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the museum entrance from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily, or at the theater box office beginning one hour before each performance. Adult admission is $2.50 and children's admission is $1.50.

For information on adult, youth and educational group rates, call 271-1620, ext. 417.

Social Security: It's needed

By MAUREEN BEATTY

Because I have always liked school I fully enjoy taking college classes. The English class I am now taking is particularly interesting because of the open discussions we have each week. The class is made up of individuals representing a variety of ages and occupations. The different opinions expressed on a given subject cover a wide range of ideas and contribute a great deal to the learning process.

Last week a heated debate emerged from the subject of Social Security. No one in the class expressed joy over the ever increasing deductions taken from their pay checks, but only one young girl spoke out against the total concept of the program. Her opinion went something like this:

Everyone is responsible for his own life, so he must either prepare for old age or take the consequences. My reminder that there are seniors badly in need in this country did not sway her at all. Her reasoning was that we shouldn't do anything, including getting married and having children, unless we can also afford to take care of the future.

I hope the growing process won't be as painful for her. She'll learn along the way that life does not always go the way we intend it. We can not completely plan our lives, because life offers no guarantees. A young man doing well today in his profession or trade, might feel capable of marrying and having children while still saving for his retirement. But what guarantee does he have that his job will still be secure 15, 20, or 45 years from now?

Many middle-aged executives can painfully attest to the fact that no one is indispensable. Many have found themselves replaced by younger men. With job opportunities hardly in surplus for middle-aged executive, months and months can elapse before they find new employment. What happens to their nest eggs during this time? Or a man can save for years, only to become seriously ill and be forced to watch as his savings dwindle month after month until he finally becomes penniless. What of the men whose earnings never do allow for more than the necessities? Examples such as these as to why we can't all be prepared for retirement, are numerous. With no crystal ball to guide him, the average man can only partially, if at all, prepare for his senior years.

Social Security to senior citizens is not charity. The seniors who are now on Social Security are the tax payers of yesterday. They contributed to the program for many years without complaint. Should we now forget them? It is unthinkable to me that someone could take this stand.

Senior citizens have been accused of being inflexible in their opinions, but I think the younger generation might do well to review their concept of life. Their generation is guaranteed one thing. If they are lucky enough to live a long life, they will grow old.

"Miracle on 34th Street", which has become just as much an institution of the holiday season as the Thanksgiving Day Parade and last minute Christmas shopping, will be shown on Channel 56 this year on Nov. 26, at 8 p.m. and repeated the following day at 3 p.m.

"Miracle" will mark the opening of holiday programming on Channel 56. In the month following, Channel 56 plans to present 13 other shows that specifically focus on Christmas.

"Miracle on 34th Street" is the heart warming and joyful story of a man, hired to play Santa Claus in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, who really believes he is Kris Kringle. Although no one else believes him at first, he manages to convince the woman who hired him, her lawyer-friend and eventually, all of New York.

The movie, a 1947 production, stars Edmund Gwenn, John Payne, Maureen O'Hara and a young Natalie Wood as her daughter.

Glenn continues to dominate Wayne

Westlanders extend win streak over arch-rivals, 27-0

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

It's been that kind of year for Coach Floyd Carter and Wayne Memorial.

But Glenn's Chuck Gordon isn't complaining.

Gordon's Rockets went about in mannerly fashion to destroy their arch rivals 27-0 Friday night before some 5,000 fans to continue its domination over the Zebras who have now lost the last four encounters with the Westlanders.

The victory also returns to the John Glenn display case the prestigious Wayne Jaycees' Fall Classic Trophy, awarded the winner of the game. Wayne owned the trophy the first three years, but hasn't seen it since 1973.

The 27-0 shellacking was the worst beating the Zebras have received from the Rockets who ended the year with a 7-2 record as compared to Wayne's 3-6 mark. Wayne has now lost its last six confrontations on the gridiron.

Gordon, rounding out his first year as head coach, said he felt that the game against Wayne "was his team's best of the season."

"It was a great way to end the season," Gordon added.

Carter, obviously disappointed with the outcome of the game, pointed out that mistakes deep in Wayne territory "didn't help us at all."

"Glenn has an excellent football team," Carter added, "they beat us soundly. But our mistakes, plus Mark, (quarterback Mark Korte) getting hurt didn't help us any. I felt our defense was good at times. We forced them to go for field goals." Glenn scored on its first possession in a series that ate up six minutes of the first quarter and featured a 36-yard run by running back Tim Ruark who played havoc with Wayne defenses all night long.

Quarterback Bill Lee engineered a 11 play 73 yard sustained drive which eventually ended with Jim Irwin's 10-yard pass reception in the Wayne end zone.

Kal Deluca kicked the extra point and with 6:01 on the clock, Glenn had a 7-0 lead.

Glenn added to its total in the initial minute of the second quarter when the Rockets got to the Zebra 20-yard line and their drive fizzled. Deluca was called upon for a 30-yard field goal and he hit his target, capping a 64-yard march in 10 plays.

The Sports Meridian

Playoff fever hits area

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

When the Michigan High School Athletic Association introduced the concept of its football playoff format to determine state champs, there were a lot of skeptics.

Those protests have evaporated with the playoff system's success and, since 1975, the first year of the actual playoff—there was a trial run, a "paper playoff" in 1974—there has been an ever-increasing interest to better the "system."

The expanded quarter-finals this year has helped quell some of the loud protests from coaches, teams and fans whose clubs were undefeated and didn't make the playoffs, but there are some kinks that must be worked out.

Teams like undefeated Fordson this year will not have an opportunity to compete for the state title because Coach Charles Justice's Tractors didn't accumulate enough playoff points, and there are other undefeated teams who didn't make the cut.

With playoff fever at its meridian, the MHSAA should consider "wild card" teams whose records warrant a ticket to the playoffs.

If a team is undefeated in nine games, surely it deserves a chance to show it is - or isn't - the best team in the state.

No system is perfect, but the injustices of present playoff system could be eliminated with "wild cards".

On a separate item, Bill Hawley, the athletic director at Wayne Memorial High School said that it is true the school has been approached by the Suburban 8 about replacing departing Redford Union in the league.

Wayne presently is affiliated with the Great Lakes 8, which shrunk to five teams during the fall season because of millage failures in Wyandotte and Taylor. Wyandotte voters last week approached a millage proposal that would restore athletics, while Taylor voters were to let their millage feelings be known Tuesday during a general election in the city.

"It's no secret that if school districts continue to have money problems and athletics are cut out of programs, there will have to be some consideration given to realignments."

"However, we're waiting to see what happens in the other school districts and it's a bit premature to say what we'd do about realignment," Hawley said.

Meanwhile, there is a mass exodus of athletes from the school districts where millages have gone down the drain. In fact, Wayne has been the happy recipient of some of Romulus High's former cagers and Taylor Truman basketball players reportedly have enrolled at Inkster Cherry Hill.

It will be interesting to see what will happen if Taylor voters approve their millage—will these athletes return to their school districts?

And, if you think your tax dollars for education are going to waste, please read this inspiring letter from a Livonia Churchill athlete about his training and his coach:

DEAR MR. MOORADIAN:

I am writing you as a reader, sports fan and future journalist. I am a high school senior at Livonia Churchill (Hail to the victors)! I run cross country and track and am fairly successful. But for only one reason, my coach David Westover. And I'm sure I talk for many great runners when I say that the coach is the big factor in molding a potentially good runner into a great runner.

Now I've run here for nearly three years under Mr. Westover, and I have nothing but great love and respect for him as a coach and a man. He made me an All-State Cross Country runner. Mr. Mooradian I owe him more than I can ever repay him. His record shows he is an excellent coach, you know that. But Dave Westover's record as a man will always mean more to me than all his accomplishments as coach. I've seen his eyes flash when I win a race.

And that is all the congratulations I need. I hate to realize the fact that this is my last year at Churchill. You print sports because you realize it takes painful work and determination to be a successful athlete. We are realizing what seems to be our first league championship loss in cross country in seven years. That means a lot to me, I love Churchill with all my heart. I made the right choice when I decided to go to Livonia Churchill, even though I was supposed to go to Franklin (where all my friends went). I've made one friend I will never forget. Dave Westover has handed memories to me I will never forget. I will never forget the coach or the man. Hail to the victors of Churchill! Every race I win, every line in the Eagle that says what Tobin Jones has accomplished for David Westover the man.

Thank you for your time. I had to tell someone outside Churchill how I feel about my coach. He's done more than anyone has in track and cross country for me.

And God knows he's not being paid handsomely. He's the drive behind my wheels. Thank you once again.

Sincerely yours,
Tobin Alan Jones
co-editor of the Winston Word
Churchill High School

Riding 'shotgun'

Getting a free ride at the expense of Wayne Memorial quarterback Mark Korte (dark jersey) is Westland John Glenn's Andy Pucci (84) who makes sure Korte doesn't get far. Pucci and the Rocket troops marched over Wayne for the fourth consecutive year to retain the Wayne Jaycees' Fall Classic Trophy and finish the year with an enviable 7-2 record. Wayne dropped its sixth straight after winning the first three in 1977.

Belleville gridders wind up unrewarded year with loss

If victory is the reward of athletic competition, Belleville High had an unrewarded football season.

Pelted 26-7 Friday night by arch-rivals, Ypsilanti, Coach Pat Stokes' troops suffered a season-ending setback, their ninth of the campaign.

It was the first time in recent years that the Tigers have gone winless in football.

"We knew we weren't going to be a super team," said Stokes who ended his third year as head coach. "However, we felt we were going to be competitive."

"True we had to replace 20 players who had graduated, but not winning a game just wasn't in our plans. It has been disappointing to say the least."

Robichaud makes it to 'B' playoffs

Silencing Milan's aerial attack, Dearborn Heights' Robichaud hung on to a 13-7 victory to earn a quarter-final Class B playoff berth.

The victory gave Coach Bob Yauck's Bulldogs the right to meet undefeated Warren Woods on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. to determine which team will advance to the semi-finals.

The quarter-final game will be played on a neutral field, Sterling Heights.

"I'm very proud of this team," Yauck said. "Our players have been consistent throughout the year and I'm very proud that we will be able to represent our school district and the SAC (Suburban Athletic Conference) in the playoffs. It will be Robichaud's first appearance in post-season state playoff competition. It will also be the first time Robichaud has ever met a team from Warren Woods."

"They're ranked as the No. 2 Class B power in the state, and they are also undefeated," Yauck said. "Just off of those accomplishments we have to have a lot of respect for Warren Woods."

Robichaud earned a shot at the state title by stopping an aerial-minded Milan club Saturday. Milan quarterback Jeff Jenyk threw 31 passes and completed nine for a total of 112 yards. However, an alert

Winekoff broke loose and scored on a 27-yard run. Brent Verrot kicked the extra point.

Up to then the Braves went about and destroyed their visitors in an orderly manner. Quarterback Tim McCarthy went in from the one to give Ypsilanti its first score and Tom Korniliks' kick for the extra point made it 7-0.

With 40 seconds remaining in the half, the Braves widened the margin to 14-0 as McCarthy teamed up with Buddy Powell for a 42-yard touchdown pass-run play.

A Belleville turnover in the third quarter set up Ypsilanti's third TD of the game as the Braves recovered a fumble on the Tiger 38 and a McCarthy-to-Rodney Holman pass that covered 29-yards was good for the six-points.

Ypsilanti, aided by a roughing the kicker penalty, put its final touchdown of the season on the boards with two minutes remaining in the game. The Braves eventually scored on Powell's 42-yard jaunt.

Outstanding the Tigers in nearly all categories, Ypsilanti had 10 first downs to Belleville's 8, 173 rushing yards to 133 and passed for 56 as compared to 34. The Tigers fumbled three times while Ypsilanti twice.

Patterson ended his junior season with 76 yards on 17 rushes and Ellsworth racked up 34 yards on nine tries. Verrot cashed in on three sacks of the quarterback and led the Tiger defenders on defense, while Tom Rizzo, played a notable game at defensive end.

"It's always an emotional game when our two teams meet," said Stokes, "but they had better people than we did in the skill positions."

"We were pleased with our performance, however we can't be happy because of losing," Stokes concluded.

Patriots win real wild one

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Armand Vigna knows that it's never an easy game when his Franklin Patriots meet with cross-town rivals Bentley.

And even after Vigna's Patriots erupted for 22 points in the second quarter to take a 29-6 lead at half-time, the veteran football coach eyed that advantage suspiciously.

How right he was as Bentley's hordes countered in the second half with 14 third quarter points and six in the last 12 minutes before surrendering 36-26 in the season finale for both teams.

"I knew it looked too easy to be true," Vigna, whose team finished with a 6-3 record, noted. "They came back and gave us a scare. In fact, we won the first half battle; they took us the second half."

Bentley drew first blood as the Bulldogs strung together a 10-play, 72-yard drive that culminated with Chuck Roy's one-yard touchdown plunge. Bentley failed to get the conversion and led briefly, 6-0.

Three plays after the ensuing kickoff Franklin was on the board. Dave Bowen chalked up 43-yards on a pitch from Mike Fry to set up the touchdown then, after a illegal motion penalty, the Patriots scored on Paul Pietrzak's 10-yard around end sprint. Don Boka kicked the extra point to move the hosts ahead for good, 7-6.

Franklin's second quarter TD mania was ignited by Acton who scored two of the three touchdowns in that period. Acton put the finishing touches to a six-play, 53-yard drive with a 2-yard off tackle touchdown run. Boka then made good on his second of four extra points, increasing the Patriots' lead to 14-6.

After an exchange of punts, Franklin struck again. After Fry picked up 26-yards on an option, Jerry Cifor scored from the 27 on a beautifully executed trap play.

And, with 3:16 left, Franklin drove 60-yards in six plays with Fry going in from 12-yards out on a keeper. A Tom Hollandsworth to Ron Reeder pass accounted for the two-point conversion.

Bentley shed its Dr. Jekyll image, and came out playing the role of mean Mr. Hyde. The Bulldogs drove 83 yards in nine plays and scored on Matt Munn's 11-yard up-the-middle burst. Roy Schneider, back from an injury, passed for the two-point conversion.

The Patriots also had to shift Boka into the QB slot in the third quarter as Fry came up injured.

It was Schneider who put the visitors on the board again in that quarter as he broke loose for a 35-yard touchdown sprint with 7:21 left, closing the gap to 29-20.

However, Franklin scored its final touchdown of the season in the fourth quarter as Acton scored on a triple option from the 10, ending a 51-yard march.

Schneider clicked again with 3:51 left as he directed a 62-yard drive and scored on a 4-yard pass to Joe Race.

"It was a thrilling game to watch with all of that scoring and everything," Vigna offered.

Wayne runners finish 5th in state

Blaha is 3rd best harrier in Class A

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Wayne Memorial is the fifth best Class A cross country team in the state of Michigan.

Coach Ernie Righetti's runners proved they are among the top teams in the state Saturday at Grand Rapids where they finished behind Grand Blanc (51 points), Grosse Pointe North (86), Jackson (165), and Royal Oak Kimball (200).

Wayne garnered 203 points. Understandably, Righetti is proud of his runners. "Under circumstances we had no control over, we performed quite well. This is our best showing in the state in recent years and this, I feel, is only the beginning. We're going to be up there every year, believe me."

The circumstances that Righetti was referring to was the loss of his fifth man, Tim Quaintance, who missed the state competition due to an appendectomy.

The undefeated Zebras went to the state without Quaintance in their lineup.

Senior Rick Blaha earned a niche as one of the top runners in the state this year as the Wayne harrier competed the three-mile course in 14:52. Only two other Class A runners, Grand Blanc's Mark Mesler (14:48.5) and Flint Kearsley's Terry Doherty (14:48.7) finished ahead of Blaha.

For some inexplicable reason, Doherty had to settle for the silver medal as he slipped within a few feet of the finish line after leading Mesler all of the way.

"We don't know what happened," Righetti said. "There he was within reach of the state title and he slipped. No one could explain what happened. The turf wasn't slippery or anything - just can't understand it."

Wayne also received an excellent effort from sophomore Doug Tolson who finished seventh in 15:01 to earn all-state consideration. Teammates Ron Mason and Paul Spencer were 34th and 38th, respectively, while Mark Michalowski was 121.

Wayne managed to retain for the second year the Great Lakes 8 Conference championship. The champs swept the first four places en route to an easy victory. Blaha

Zebras nip John Glenn 'at the wire'

It went down to the proverbial wire for Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn and though the two teams found Belleville waiting at the finish, Wayne's second place in the 400-yard freestyle relay provided Coach Jim McPartlin's Zebras with the Western Wayne Girls' Swimming & Diving Championship.

Wayne earned a narrow 288-286 victory over the Westlanders, while Belleville, with 180 points was third, followed by Livonia Franklin, Lincoln Park and Willow Run.

Close throughout the entire session, the turning point came for Wayne in the 500-yard freestyle event where Julie Johnston and Ellen Swinford provided the champs with third and fourth places, respectively, in record-shattering times.

The meet was tied at the end of the breaststroke event at 266 and Wayne needed to finish ahead of Glenn in the final relay to win the team championship. The Zebras turned in the second best time of 4:14.78, trailing Belleville's foursome of Dru Strobel, Martha Ryznar, Karen MacDermid and Denise Traskos to the wire. The winning time was 4:08.38. Glenn settled for third place with a 4:15.

There were two triple winners in the meet: Wayne's Terri Discher won the 200-yard individual medley, the 100-yard butterfly and took part on the winning medley relay.

Belleville's Ryznar cashed in on her performances in the 100 and 200-yards freestyle events for gold medals and was one of the foursome in the winning 400 freestyle relay.

It was the first time in the four year history of the meet that Wayne had captured the No.1 spot.

McPartlin singled out a "disciplinary action against one of his team members as the reason why the meet was so close."

"We benched one of our top performers before the meet because of disciplinary reasons," McPartlin said. "I'm sure she would have contributed a lot toward winning the title."

Meanwhile, Glenn chalked up a 103-63 victory over Franklin in a Northwest Suburban Conference dual meet to pad its record to 4-1. The Rockets were led by Kelly Lang who accounted for two of the seven Glenn first places.

Glenn will head for the league championships at Redford Township Thurston which will host the Nov.16-17 competition.

Thurston also will host Glenn Thursday night at 7 p.m. for a dual meet.

Irwin 'the irrespressible'

Going on a rampage through Wayne Memorial defenses Friday night, John Glenn's help Jim Irwin scored two of the Rockets touchdowns to help humble their arch-rivals 27-0. It was Wayne's worst defeat at the hands of the Westlanders who have now won four of the seven games between the two schools housed in the Wayne-Westland Community School District.

Robichaud Bulldogs head for playoffs

Bulldog secondary, led by Alvin Carter, made sure that Jenyk's bombs didn't cause too much damage.

Carter picked off a pair of interceptions to increase his total to 16 on the year. Teammate Darryl Goree also cashed in on an errant pass.

Carter directed Robichaud's offense which churned out 262 yards on the ground and piled up 40 yards in the air on a 2 for 8 completion record.

Robichaud got on the scoreboard midway in the first quarter as Carter hooked up with Glen Carreathers on a 28-yard strike. That TD was preceded by Carter's pass interception.

Robichaud failed to kick the extra point and hung on to its narrow 6-0 lead until the third quarter when they increased the margin to 13-0. The Bulldogs got on the board with Michael Morgan's 20-yard off tackle TD slant.

Bob Yauck, the coach's son who missed the first point after, booted the second.

Milan averted the shutout with a third quarter touchdown.

"I felt we played an excellent defensive game," Yauck said. "We held them to minus 12 yards rushing."

Robichaud had 13 first downs to Milan's 9. The Bulldog ballcarriers picked up 262 yards with junior running back Mark Woodson accounting for 114 on 22 carries. Morgan finished the afternoon with 47 yards on eight carries while McGhee and Carter split 82 yards between them.

A couple of reasons why Milan's passing game was ineffective was the pressure applied by Yauck, a defensive tackle, and rugged John Lucas. George Green, Goree and the entire Robichaud secondary played sound defense.

Robichaud's 8-1 over-all record and 5-0 SAC mark are the best in the school's football history. The Bulldogs lone loss was to Muskegon Heights, a Class A school.

Key injury

Hovering over their fallen quarterback are members of the Wayne Memorial football staff. The injured player, Mark Korte, sustained an ankle hurt in the second half against John Glenn during the season finale for both schools. Korte didn't return to the game, but Glenn had already built up a 13-0 halftime lead before going on to post a relatively easy 27-0 victory.

Portage Central is 1st playoff test

Salem shoots for state grid title

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

In 1974 Plymouth Salem was the Michigan High School Athletic Association's "Paper Playoff" state football champion in Class A.

This year Coach Tom Moshimer's Rocks have an opportunity to become the third Class A state championship team. Their quest for that coveted honor will begin Friday night when Salem takes on Portage Central at 7:30 p.m. in the quarter-finals of the state playoffs.

Moshimer has plenty of respect for his Friday night opponent. He pointed out, "that anyone that gets this far has to be a good football team."

"Portage is the kind of team that doesn't make too many mistakes," Moshimer continued. "They have an excellent quarterback who operates from a mixed formation and there are also two excellent receivers."

"We're going to have to play near flawless football to beat them," Moshimer added.

In his 11th season as Salem's head coach, Moshimer isn't ready to speculate on the showdown between the Brighton quarter-final winner and the survivor of the Lansing

Sexton and Flint Southwestern game. Southwestern is ranked the No.1 power in class A this year.

"You have to play them one at a time," Moshimer offered. "Some people pick Flint Southwestern to go all the way ---that's their prerogative. We're concentrating on Portage. That's our first goal."

Salem will head into the playoffs without their junior quarterback, Rich Hewlett who was injured at Dearborn. Also on the doubtful starting list is Kurt Lewis, injured in the Rocks' 35-13 triumph over Farmington Harrison.

That victory was Salem's ticket to the playoffs and also sealed a perfect 9-0 regular season record.

Harrison, however, provided some early speculation as it got on the board with 7:26 left in the quarter on a 10-yard pass.

But Salem came back and with quarterback Paul Dillon at the throttle drove 75-yards in six plays to score on Dave Booker's 10-yard sprint. Dave Basierbe proceeded to kick his first of four extra points.

Salem broke a 7-all deadlock early in the second quarter as Doug Rowe lunged into the Harrison end zone from one yard out, culminating a 9-play, 68-yard sustained drive. The Rocks padded their lead even more with a final seconds touchdown by Rowe who climaxed a 33-yard drive with a two-yard touchdown run with 19 seconds left on the second quarter clock.

The third quarter was all Salem's. With less than four minutes elapsed, Rowe scored his third touchdown of the game on a 21-yard dash and Dillon put the final Rock TD of the game on the board with 3:06 left in the period. He scampered 34-yards on a keeper.

With a comfortable 35-7 lead, Moshimer turned loose his reserves in the last 12 minutes of the regular season and Harrison added to its total when Dale Blackmere went in from the four.

Dillon quickly made fans forget Hewlett's heroics as the back-up quarterback amassed 149 yards in 20 carries. Rowe had three TDs on 16 carries for 118 yards while Booker's contribution included 54 yards on six tries.

"After we got untracked in the first quarter, it was a fine game offensively for us," Moshimer said. "However, our defense wasn't as sharp as I would have wanted it to be."

Wayne's 5th best in state

led teammates Tolson, Spencer and Mason to the wire while Joe Morgan finished 20th for the Zebras.

Ironically, the best team in the league nearly didn't get an opportunity to run. Righetti related that there were some problems spots on the course and he and his runners went out to look them over. Meanwhile the starter had called for the runners and we got there just in time.

"However, Mark (Michalowski) had to have his leg taped and we did a hurried up job," Righetti said. "Apparently the tape was too tight and after a mile he complained. We were lucky that Morgan managed to pick up the slack and came through for us."

Wayne piled up 30 points for the victory, while Dearborn Fordson was runner-up with 37 points.

Wayne ended the season with 9-0 dual meet record -- it is unbeaten in its last 16 starts and also picked up its second league title and swept all of the invitational championships it entered, including the Schoolcraft, Shrine, University of Michigan - Dearborn and its own invitational. The Zebras also won the regional and finished fifth in the state.

To all of this Righetti commented: "We're not disappointed at all and when you know most of the kids will be back next year, you have to be optimistic about 1978 as well."

Help is on the way

Nailed by Wayne Memorial's defensive halfback Larry Wojtkosky (24), John Glenn's receiver, Jim Irwin (40) stubbornly holds his ground while Wayne's Mike Mason (20) rushes to Wojtkosky's assistance. Irwin grabbed a 33-yard pass from quarterback Bill Lee which set up a Rocket touchdown in Glenn's victory over Wayne Friday night. Wojtkosky was injured on this play.

Spartans rally falls short

Staying true to form, the win-one, then lose-one Cherry Hill football team dropped their season finale Saturday to Clarenceville.

Despite a last quarter rally, the Spartans fell 12-10 in a non-league game against the reigning Metro-West Conference champs.

"If you've been following us this year," Coach Jerry Pawloski explained, "you'd know that we were winners one week, losers the next. Unfortunately this was a losing week."

Cherry Hill finished the season 4-5, its best record on the gridiron in recent years.

"We did have a good league year," Pawloski commented. "We finished one game out of first place behind Melvindale and Crestwood who were the pre-season favorites and it was much more pleasing to the players and the coaches to complete a season with four victories as opposed to our previous years when we went 1-8 and 0-9."

Pawloski pointed out that with 10 juniors returning on offense and having to replace only a tackle and halfback on defense, "we're really looking forward to next year."

Cherry Hill took a 3-0 first quarter lead against the visiting Clarenceville team as Tom Minor booted a 36-yard field goal after a Spartan drive had stalled.

A fluke play resulted in Clarenceville's second quarter touchdown. Cherry Hill's Floyd Simmons intercepted a Clarenceville pass at midfield but the visitors managed to pop the ball loose from him and run it back 38-yards for a touchdown.

Clarenceville increased its lead to 12-3 in the third quarter when Jim McPhil intercepted a deflected pass and ran it in from the 28-yard line. That preceded a goal-line stand by the Spartans who stopped the visitors thanks to a fired up defense led by Daryl Gallant and Rick Searcy.

Cherry Hill struck for its final touchdown of the season midway in the fourth quarter after Simmons came through with a 20-yard punt return to the Spartan 35 yard line.

With Searcy and Scotty Dawson alternating at quarterback, the Spartans drove to the Clarenceville 35 where a Dawson to Darnell Green pass was good for a touchdown. Minor kicked the extra point.

The Spartans went for the onside kick but Clarenceville got there first and managed to keep possession of the ball the last three minutes.

"It was a hard fought game," Pawloski said. "We just made too many mistakes -- true to form as we have all season long. The mistakes we make, moreover, the opposition seemed to cash in on them."

Gallant's 29 yards on five carries was the best Spartan ballcarriers could manage. Dawson was two of eight with his passes for 56 yards while Searcy connected on one of two tosses for 27.

Dearborn buries winless Canton

The long and frustrating football season ended Friday for Plymouth Canton.

Coach Dave Schuele's Chiefs had the dubious honor of meeting Dearborn after undefeated Plymouth Salem got through with the Pioneers.

And the Pioneers buried Canton 47-13 in a nonleague contest which left the Chiefs winless for the 1977 season.

"It has been a real frustrating year for all of us," Schuele said. "When we go back and view those scores, seven points, one touchdown separates us from being a 5-4 team rather than a 0-9 club."

We lost in overtime to such teams as Northville, in the last seconds to Livonia Bentley and to an Annapolis team which we should have beaten -- you have to be disappointed after all of that."

For four minutes Canton had Dearborn worried. The Pioneers got the opening kickoff and used up three plays before deciding to punt. However, when they saw the Chiefs breaking late from the defensive huddle, the Pioneers quickly snapped the ball and turned the play into a 53-yard touchdown.

Canton came right back and scored after the ensuing kickoff. A short kick gave the Chiefs the ball on their own 40-yard line, then Rusty Mandel teamed up with Randy Reinas for a 26-yard pass completion. On the third play from scrimmage the Mandel-to-Reinas pass play clicked again, this time for a 25-yard touchdown.

With Dearborn ahead 7-6 after Canton failed to capitalize on the conversion, Dearborn erupted for two more touchdowns in the initial quarter and built up a 20-6 lead.

For all purposes the game was over then as the Pioneers struck again for seven points in the second quarter before going on for three TDs in the third stanza.

"The roof collapsed on us after our first touchdown," said Schuele who brought the curtains down on his second season as head coach. "They shellacked us after that."

Canton's second touchdown of the game, and the last of the season was pulled off in the fourth quarter when Doug Smith combined with Jay McKinley on a 10-yard scoring pass.

Schuele will have at least 16 ball players off of this year's team back next year. He feels that the injury to all-league offensive lineman, Michael Nyhus, and to Jerry Simon, the team's leading rusher, proved costly in the stretch.

Franklin holds off Bentley

"Bentley did a good job against us in that second half. We just couldn't get rolling."

Assessing the season, Vigna felt his team had an opportunity to be even better than its 6-3 indicated.

"We lost two games (Plymouth Salem and Sterling Heights) in the very last seconds," Vigna said, "so we were right on the verge of another outstanding season. We ended up co-champs in the Northwest Suburban and beat all the teams in Livonia -- that's not bad."

Franklin ballcarriers broke the school's all-time rushing record, amassing 2010 yards as compared to 1,643 when Dan Quinn (1974) was in the Patriot backfield.

Against Bentley, Franklin lost the first down battle 19 to 13 but won the war of yards 335 to 224. Franklin also picked off four Schneider passes. He attempted 21 and completed nine. The interceptions went to Bowen, Pat McDonnell and Tom Hollandsworth, who got two.

Fry was the leading ballcarrier with 16 attempts for 108 yards while Acton cashed in nine carries for 86 yards and two TDs. Bowen piled up 68 yards on four tries.

Linebackers Kevin Eddy, and Hollandsworth did the job against Bentley.

"We matured quickly this year. I'm proud of this team, Vigna said.

By Chet Kosin

For years American drivers have been living with the myth that every car has a certain number of relatively trouble-free miles built into it. The remaining life expectancy of a used car was determined by deducting the mileage recorded on the odometer from the "built-in" usually considered to be 100,000 miles. But mileage alone is not a reliable measure of wear, many other factors contribute to the life of a car. General good care, careful driving, and good roads mean a lot more to a car than actual mileage.

Give your car the good care it needs with quality parts from KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster! We feature parts for both foreign and domestic cars, along with a full line of accessories and automotive tools. We invite do-it-yourself mechanics to come in for the advice and materials they need to keep their cars in top running condition. Ask about our complete machine shop service for all types of engine repair work; we work on any size or type of engine from motor-cycles to diesels. Call KOSIN'S at 563-3894. We are open daily from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M., and on Saturdays until 5 P.M. Come in for everything you need to winterize your car!

AUTO TIP: Always make sure your engine is off before you try under-the-hood checks.

Westland Comets future football stars?

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor
Westland John Glenn's head football Coach Chuck Gordon may not know it but he has a "farm

Glenn rules Wayne

Wayne, which failed to get a first down in the first half, got into further trouble when Jim Hendrian recovered a Zebra fumble on the Wayne six-yard line. Wayne defenses, spearheaded by Chris Leverenz managed to hold and Glenn had to settle for a 23-yard field goal, again by Deluca. With 2:13 remaining in the opening half, the Westlanders had built up a 13-0 lead and were well on their way to victory.

Glenn polished off its arch rivals with two fourth quarter touchdowns as Irwin scored from the one to culminate a 55-yard, 8-play drive with 7:35 left in the season. The TD was set up by a long pass to Irwin from Lee which covered 53-yards and ended on the two-yard line.
Irwin got the final touchdown of the game and season with 3:18 left.
He scored from the two which completed a seven play, 28-yard drive. Irwin kicked the point after.

Ruark was the mainstay of the Rocket attack as he rushed for 130 yards in 31 carries. Paul Svabik picked up 36 in seven tries while Lee completed seven of 12 passes for 99 yards.

Svabik, Rick Burns, Tom Jurewicz and roverback Andy Pucci were ample reasons why the Rockets shut out the Wayne offense.

Assessing the season, Gordon pointed out that he was pleased with the over-all performance of his team.

"After losing the opener to Allen Park, a lot of teams would have folded, however, we didn't," Gordon said. "Nobody expected us to lose that game but we did, however, our system" right in his own backyard.

The Westland Comets, a respected organization that competes in Little League football, are producing worthy talent that may some day clan Rocket varsity uniforms.

players bounced back and won a share of the league championship.
"We have a great league (Northwest Suburban) and we're proud of being able to accomplish what we did there. Our 7-2 record is something to be proud about."

Carter said that inexperience and a young team were the team's greatest handicaps.

"But I look for us to have a fine season next year," Carter added.
We have only five seniors on this year's squad, so we're looking forward to 1978."

Spartans lose cross country league title

Beaten twice during the course of the league season and finishing second at the annual conference meet, four-time Tri-River Conference cross country champ handed over its crown to Dearborn Heights Crestwood last week.

Crestwood won its first cross country title ever thanks to the key performances of Tim Barr and Gerry Dufresne who staked the Chargers to 45 points.

Coach Joe Grasley's Spartans finished ahead of Southgate Schafer which had 65 points and had beaten Cherry Hill in head-on competition during the league year.

Trailing the top three teams were Garden City
West (93), Dearborn Heights Riverside (105), Southgate (121) and Melvindale (145). The eighth team in the league, Taylor Kennedy, didn't place a team in the field this year because of cutbacks due to a millage defeat.

Riverside's Gerry Donakowski, who set a Class B state record over the weekend at Sturgis to win the coveted state championship, also picked up the conference's individual title.

Donakowski, a senior who has never been defeated in the league, was clocked in 14:56 which also established a University of Michigan-Dearborn course record. His winning time at the state was 14:57.

Gerry's older brother, Bill, captured the Big 10 Conference championship over the weekend as he helped University of Michigan to a fourth place finish.

The Comets freshmen unit, for example, amassed a 7-1 won-lost record, setting freshmen offensive record by scoring 145 points in one season.

While the Comets' offensive team was churning out touchdowns, its defense allowed a mere 3.125 points against per game --also a record.

The team was coached by Mark
Ford who had a staff made up of Jim Kolodzie, Steve Cuomo, Ned Dye,
Dale Miltz and Matt Dunsmore.

The freshmen launched the season with a 20-6 victory over the Garden
City Tigers, then went on to beat the Romulus Flyers (32-0), Ypsilanti
Braves (6-0), Westland Meteors (18-
7), Northville Colts (20-0), Westland
Rockets (21-0), Westland Jets (26-0), losing their only game to the Belleville Cougars, 6-2.

The unit director of the Westland
Comets' organization is Len Bielecki and his assistant is Tom Ratia.

The Westland Comets' Junior Varsity posted a 4-3-1 over-all record this season under the guidance of head coach Todd Kneller and his staff of John Smith, Todd Brieschke, Mark Brieschke, Larry Robinson and Mack Walker.

The unit got off to a flying start with a 24-6 victory over Garden City's Tigers, but was held to a 6-6 standstill against Romulus' Flyers.
The Comets went on to beat the Ypsilanti Braves 19-14, however fell to the Belleville Cougars, 6-0.

The Westland Meteors handed the Comets a convincing 21-6 setback and Northville rode to a 19-12 victory over the Westlanders. In other games, the Comet junior varsity beat the Westland Rockets 12-6 and brought the curtains down to the season with a 32-0 triumph over the Westland Jets.

The Comets' varsity team, made up of 13 and 14 year old players, also had an enviable 7-1 record, losing only to the Westland Meteors, 18-0.
Coach Ray Weaver's charges posted victories over Garden City (21-0), Romulus (13-0), Ypsilanti (38-14),
Belleville (25-0), Northville (12-6),
Westland Rockets (37-19), and
Westland Jets (31-7).

Weaver's assistant coaches include Moe Weaver, Bill Henderson,
Bill Lange, John Tittensore and Ray Weaver.

On the trail of a wounded deer

By SAM GRISSOM

You spend a lot of time getting ready for bowhunting. Countless hours of practice are spent shooting arrow after arrow. Should you be fortunate enough to connect with a deer will you be able to find it? Being able to identify the type wound will greatly enhance your chances of taking that deer home with you. Each type of wound requires a different waiting period before beginning to track, so maybe this list can be of some help to you.

Three items reflect where a deer has been hit at. The first is the blood sign. Light frothy or bubbly blood indicates that the hit was in the lungs, windpipe, or carotid artery. Bright red blood without any froth would indicate arterial bleeding and very dark blood would show that the hit was in the area of the liver or is venous bleeding. Watery looking blood with green or yellowish particles in it means the animal was hit in the intestines or stomach.

The second indicator is hair found on the arrow or on the ground. Any time a deer is shot hair will be cut from its body. Each portion of a deer's body has a different type of hair.

STOMACH HAIR — coarse, hollow, brownish grey, tips not as dark as from spine area

NAVEL HAIR — white, coarse, hollow, curly

HAIR FROM FORELEG — dark, short, medium coarse

HAIR FROM BETWEEN HIND LEGS — fine, white, silky, not hollow

SPINE AREA — dark with black tips, long, coarse, hollow

BRISKET — stiff, greyish black, coarse, curly

HEART AREA — stiff, greyish black, curly, coarse

Another way to tell is by how the deer reacts when shot. THE HEART SHOT — Deer usually leap when shot, sometimes no blood for 20 yards. Will usually drop within 80 yards, may travel up to 400 yards.

THE LUNG SHOT — Runs straight and hard at first, deer will slow after 50 to 60 yards. At end will stagger and lie down. Blood sign found high on bushes. The higher the hit the farther the deer will travel.

THE KIDNEY SHOT — Deer

bleeds profusely and immediately. Deer may jump two or three times then walk away. Usually deer will fall within 80 yards.

SPINE HITS — A hit in the spine will drop the deer immediately.

LOIN HITS — A hit between the kidney and the spine will sever the aortic artery. Deer bleeds heavily and you should find him in less than 100 yards.

NECK SHOTS — Arrows that strike below the spine usually cut jugulars and/or windpipe. Arrow can pass thru quickly and be completely blood free. Deer will bleed heavily so look for trail. Deer hit above the spine at the base of the neck bleed profusely but will stop bleeding if the wound is not severe. Any other neck shot above the spine is usually not fatal.

BRISKET SHOTS — Arrows that enter the brisket area from the side usually bleed very little and do little damage. From the front they may penetrate chest, bleed heavily from a lung hit and/or heart or they may slide along rib cage and do minimal damage. Brisket shots are either fatal or harmless depending upon the angle of penetration. You will find the arrow feel oily or may be covered with tallow.

HIND LEG SHOTS — If the femoral artery is severed the deer will bleed out quickly. If not he should be pushed immediately. Always trail slowly as deer will run if pushed too hard. Blood will be a fine spray and trailing will become difficult.

GUT SHOTS — A deer hit in the belly does die, only he takes a long time to do it. Deer will usually walk or run with widespread legs and a hunched back. Deer should not be trailed for at least several hours.

BACK SHOTS — A shot in the back above the loin and the kidneys will do little damage to the deer. This area is fatty and your arrow will have tallow on it and tallow will also be in the blood. Wound will usually heal and deer be as healthy as ever.

Anytime you wound a deer you should trail him exhaustively until you find him. If you think that trailing a deer is too much work, please change your sporting activities to checkers.

Don't hunt alone

Hunting safer with partner

By SAM GRISSOM

When you start planning your hunting trip one important thing you should consider is a hunting partner.

Anytime you're afield you see and do things that are more enjoyable when they are shared.

Two hunters can cover an area more effectively, such as one waiting while the other pushes through a thicket.

When deer hunting having someone to help drag a deer out sure makes the job a lot easier.
